Paul G. Blazer High School

Ashland, Kentucky

PAUL G. BLAZER

A

MAN

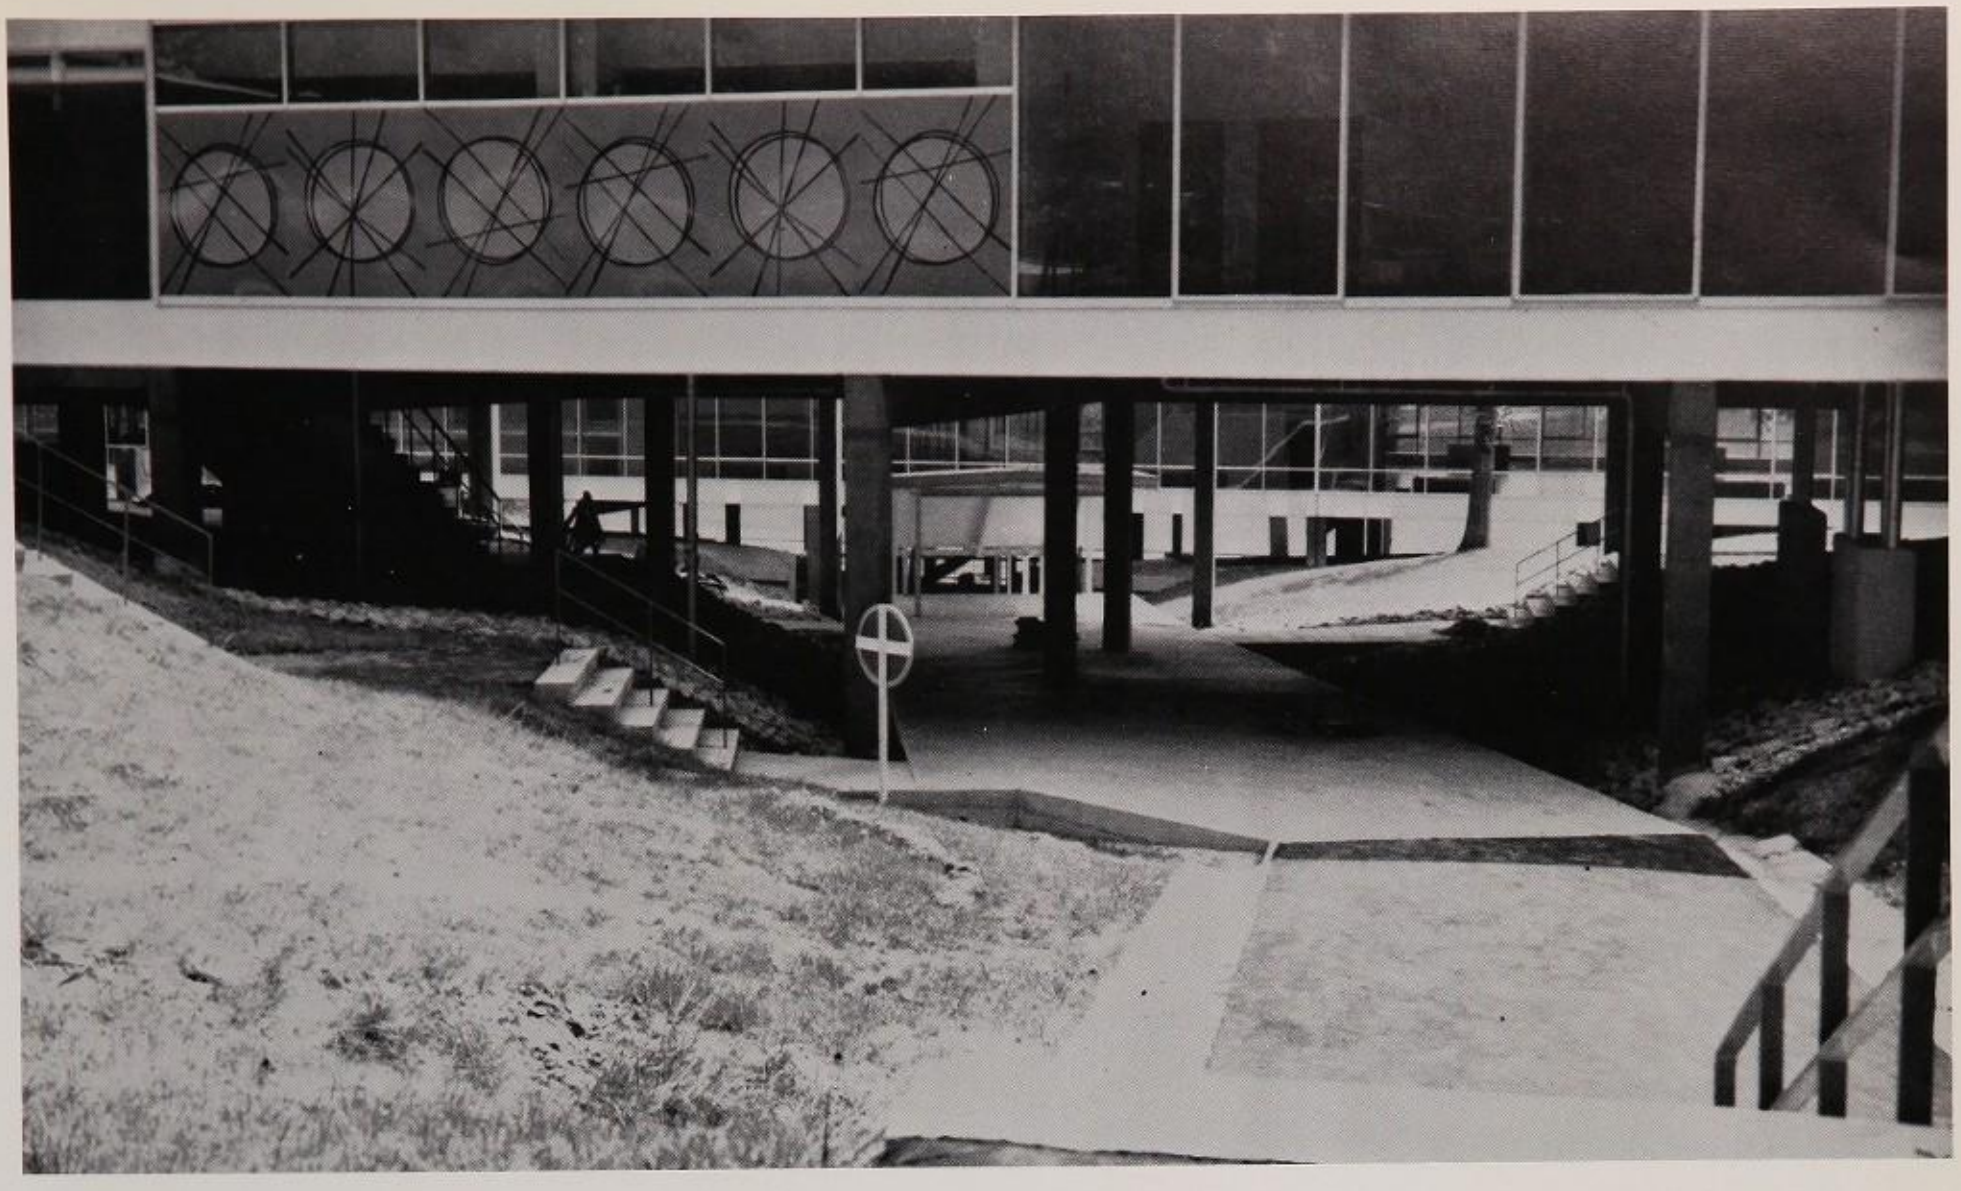
SCHOOL

THE APPRECIATION OF ANY NEW BUILDING IS DETERMINED BY THE NUMBER AND IMPORTANCE OF THE PEOPLE WHO ATTEND ITS DEDICATION. HUNDREDS OF CITIZENS AND DIGNITARIES WERE PRESENT AT THE DEDICATION OF PAUL G. BLAZER SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL. PAYING A TRIBUTE TO THE CITY OF ASHLAND, THEY ALSO PRAISED PAUL G. BLAZER FOR HIS CONTRIBUTIONS TO EDUCATION IN THE STATE.

FIRST DAY—excited students take their first look at the Blazer campus.

Governor Bert T. Combs and Ashland dignitaries listen intently to Mr. Paul G. Blazer's dedicatory speech in the new gymnasium.

When one sees the campus of a new school, he expects to find only mud and barren soil. Although Paul Blazer High was a new plant when the students moved in in September, they were greeted, not by mud, but by the natural beauty of trees and grass. Combined with the utilitarian beauty of the buildings, the natural environment makes an atmosphere conducive to study.

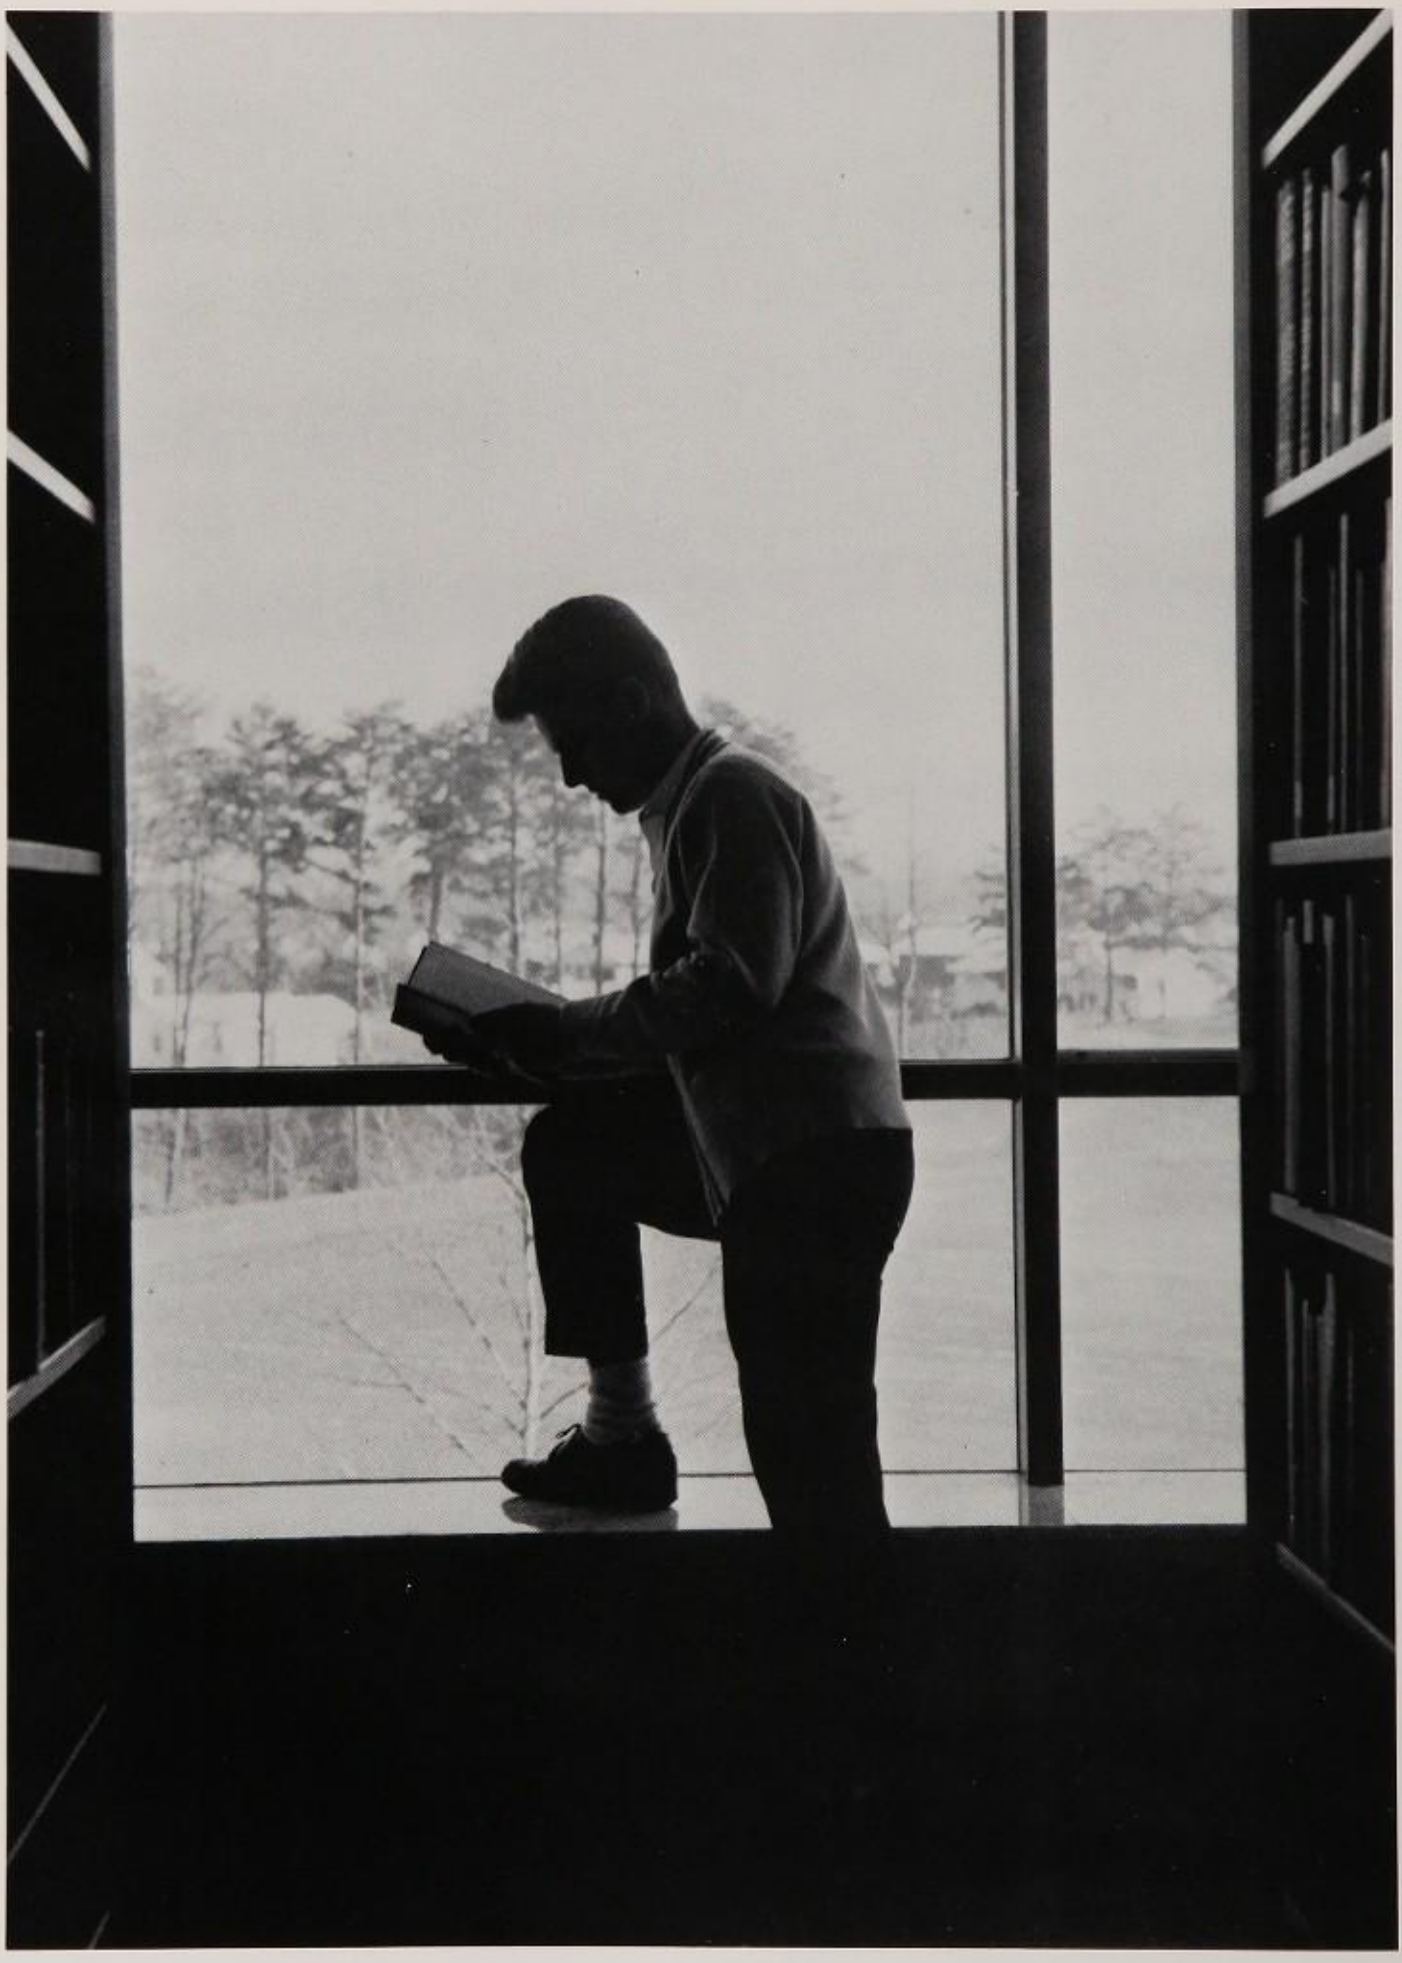


Circles of knowledge, degrees of learning, and pathways of wisdom

Probably the most modern feature of Blazer High is the swimming pool, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Blazer in Memory of their son, Stuart Monroe Blazer.

This Is the City

That Built the School.



In our spacious surroundings it is not unusual to see a student in quest of knowledge. This student and thousands like him are searching for a goal in life. Frequently this goal can be discovered by a closer look at the people who have already become successful.

One Man One Hope

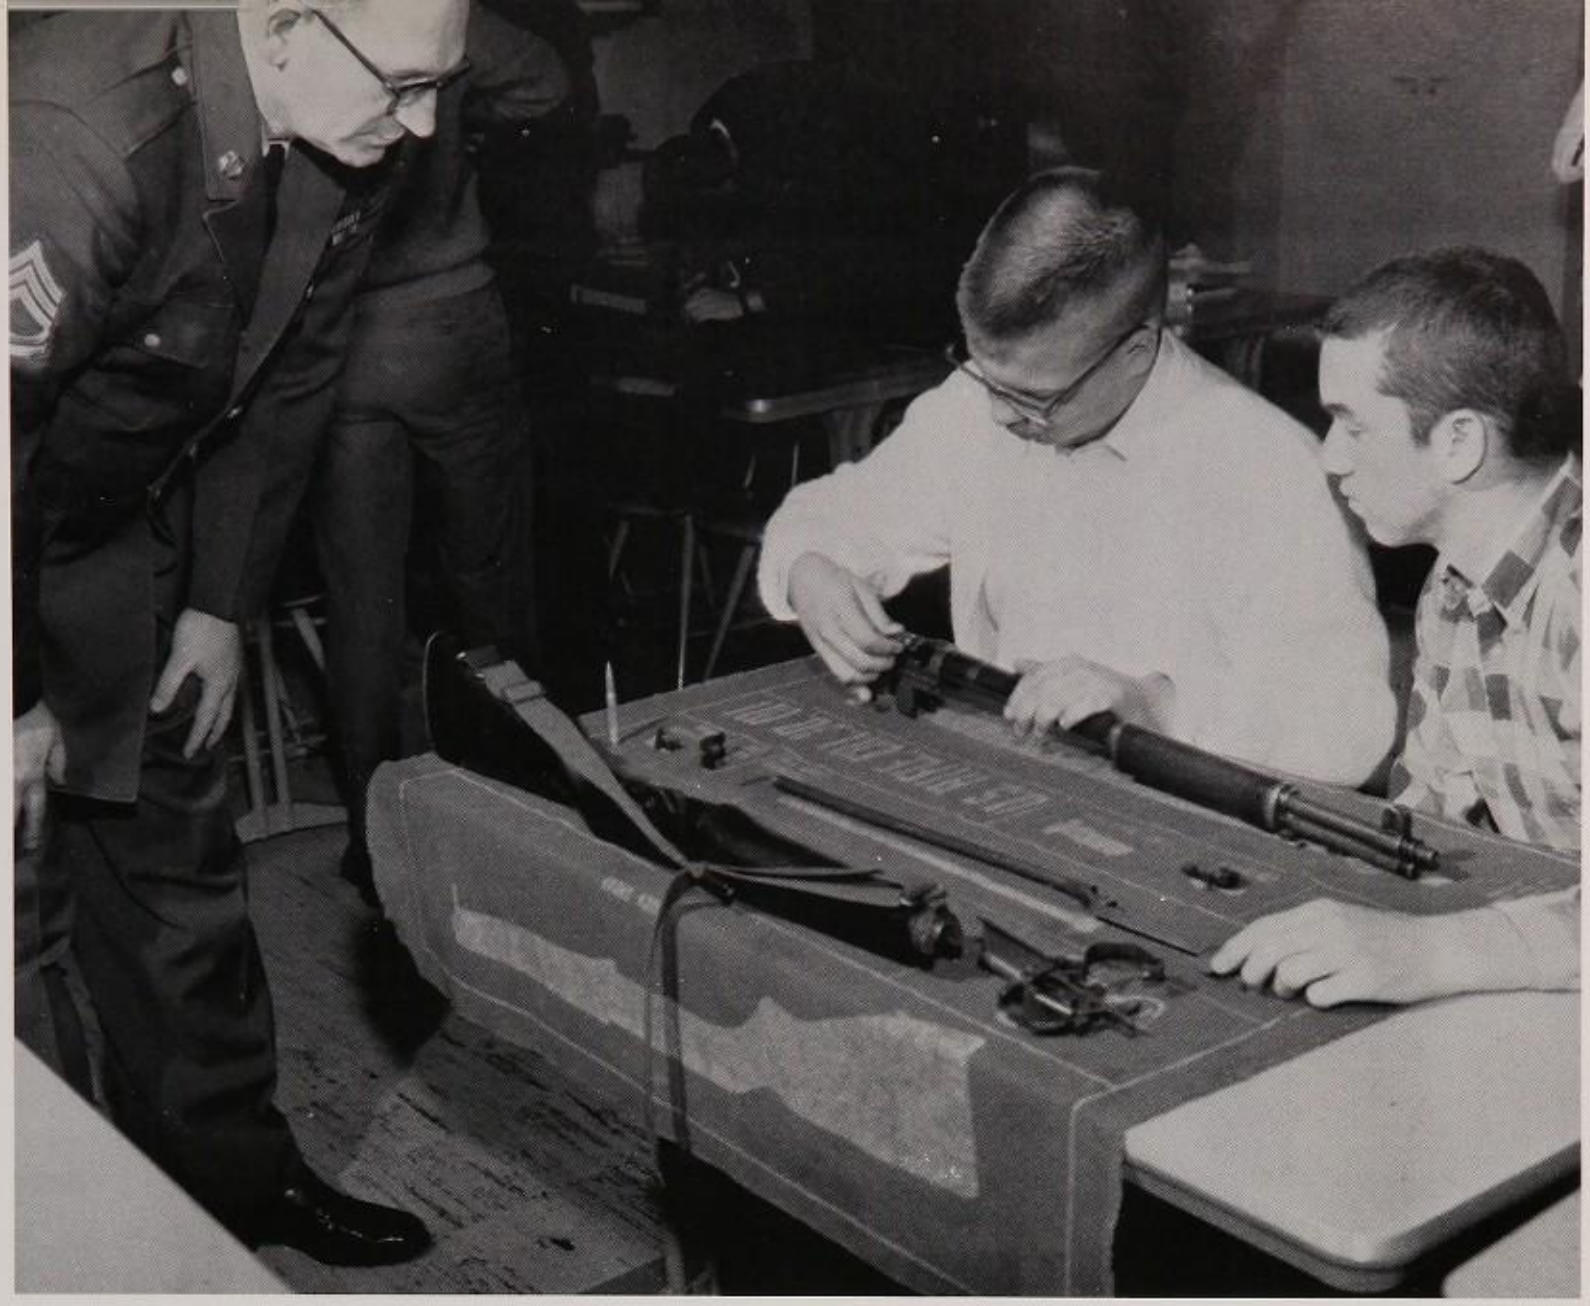
A former Ashland High School student has set an example that is a challenge for any student. He is Dr. James W. Turpin, founder of Project Concern, Inc., a non-profit, non-denominational organization which provides food, clothing, and medical relief to refugees in Hong Kong.

Dr. Turpin, recently selected as one of the ten outstanding young men in the United States, is shown displaying a model of his floating clinic, a renovated Chinese junk, by means of which he reached the thousands of boat people in Hong Kong harbor.

Below, Dr. Turpin talks with the youth of Ashland about the importance of Project Concern.

Demonstrating new teaching techniques and new facilities, Monsieur Kingsbury is right at home in the language lab at Ashland High.

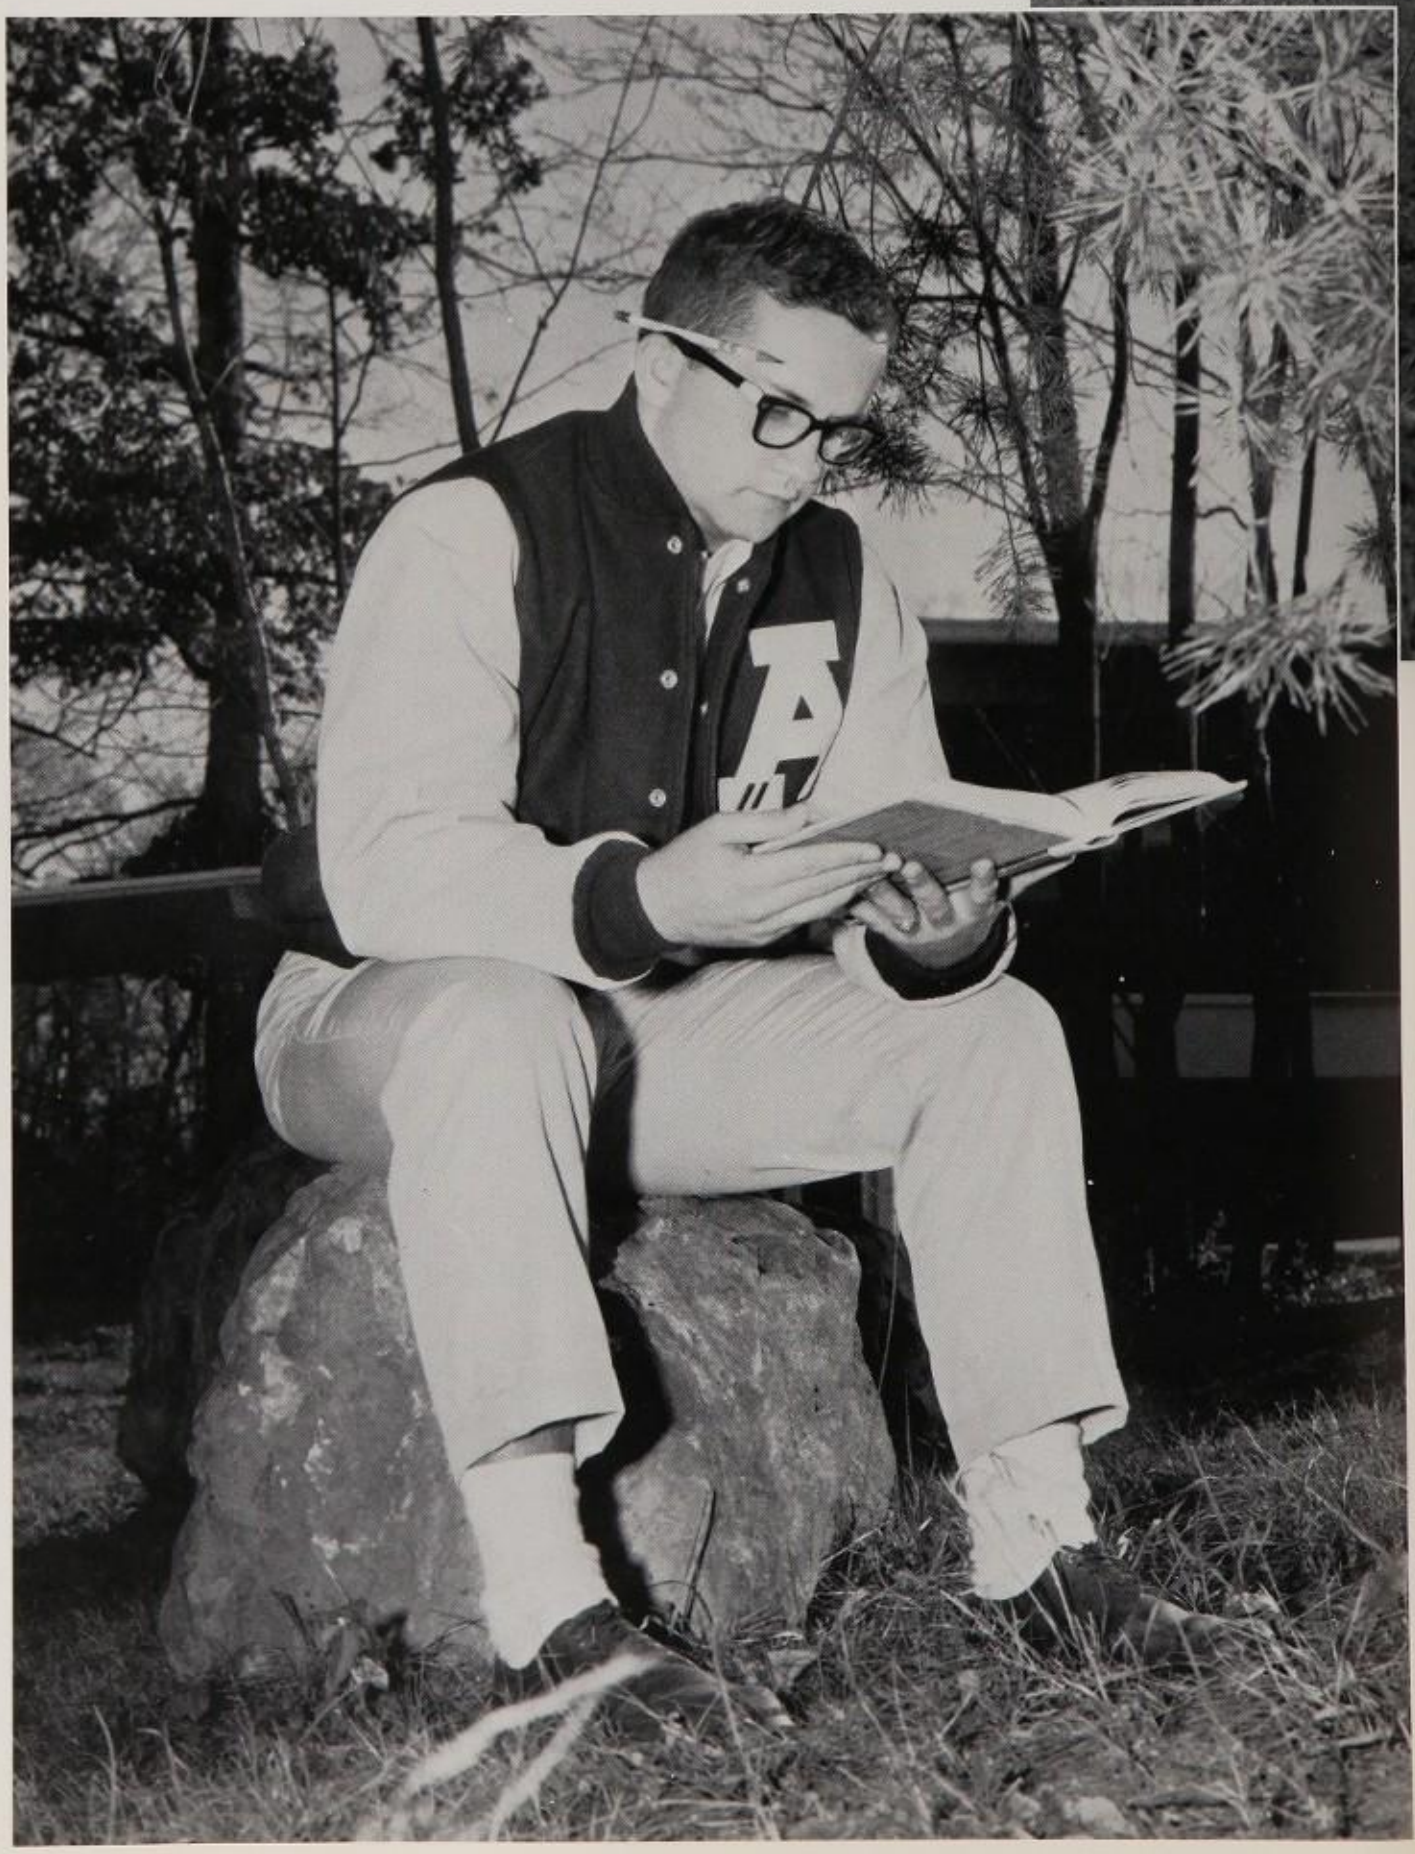
"Alas! Poor Yoric, I knew him . . ." oops! Wrong class! Rather than illustrating Hamlet's mourning the death of the court jester, Mr. Miniard is explaining the human skull to his anatomy and physiology students.



Sgt. Roberts carefully supervises two R.O.T.C. students as they practice the proper procedure of field stripping an M-1 rifle.

"Then Little Red Riding Hood said, 'Grandmother! What big eyes you have!'" Susan Nalle delivers an oration in the spacious speech and dramatics room.

Tom Dixon leaves no stone unsat in his quest for knowledge.



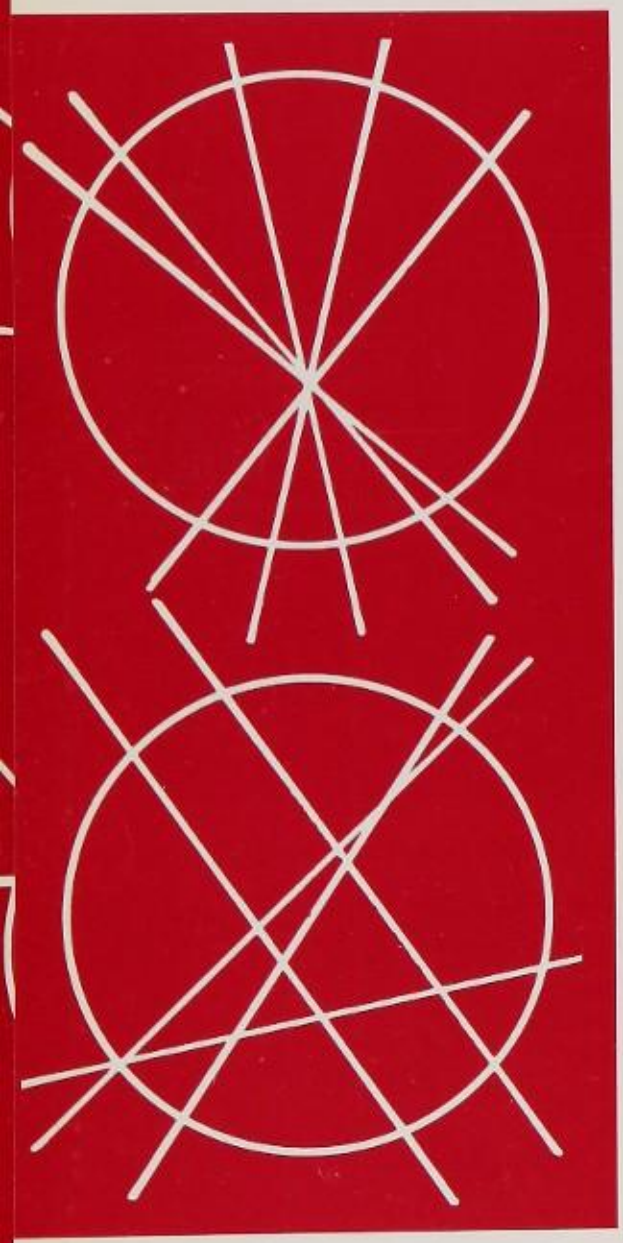
On any campus the gamut of atmosphere is distinct. It may run from the quiet, contented environment to one of constant scurrying. Such is the case at Blazer High. On one section of the campus it is possible to see students rushing to their next class, lunch, or even home. Look further and the opposite is in view: the quiet individual scholar preparing for an exam or leisurely enjoying the classics.

Some ingenious architect must have known that the students would be tired after a day of trudging around the campus, so he invented the "toadstools." Just another example of the many small conveniences that make Blazer High so appealing to both students and educators.

It's chow time in the bright, cheerful Blazer cafeteria as the girls of third lunch period pool their food and share in a pot-luck picnic.

Anywhere there is a boy and a girl, regardless of the difficulties, they will get together. Fred Cooper and Ginger Myers seem to be enjoying themselves. Could it be that they like swimming in the new pool, or is it the pleasure of each other's company?

Always in the Shadows



of the Circles

Despite the emphasis on using time wisely, the longer class periods, and the longer school days, the students sometimes are able to pause for a brief rest at lunch time.

Students casually stroll along the walkways and linger on the stairs before school or at lunch, but between classes it's quite a different picture.

Rosemary McGuire and Dan Gibson are among the students who enjoy the shade of the trees around the campus. Although the camera was able to capture the scene from a distance, it could not record what they were saying.

Work Wo

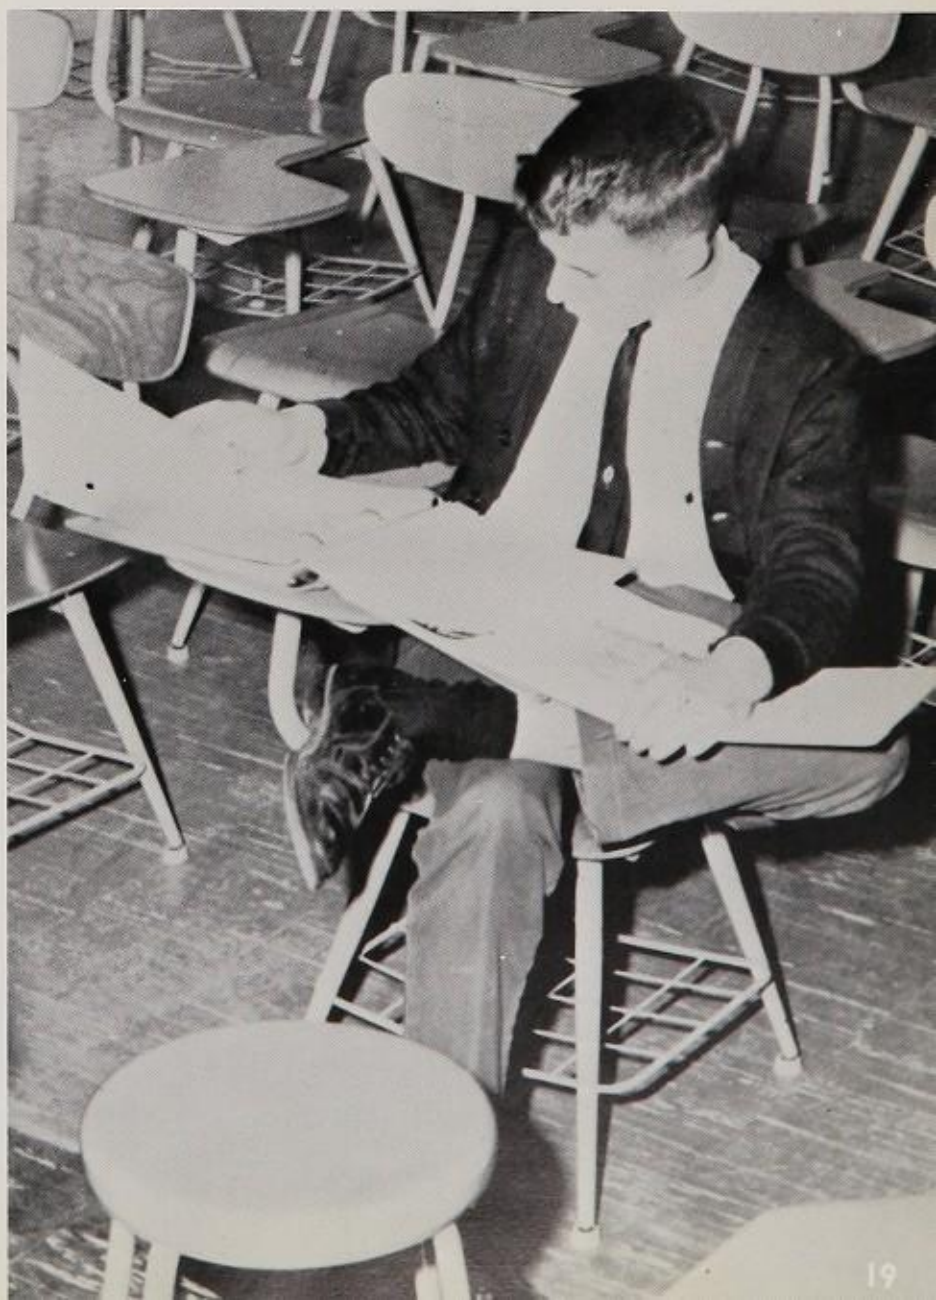
Amateur draftsman John Steele draws his Orthographic Projections with precision and diligence.

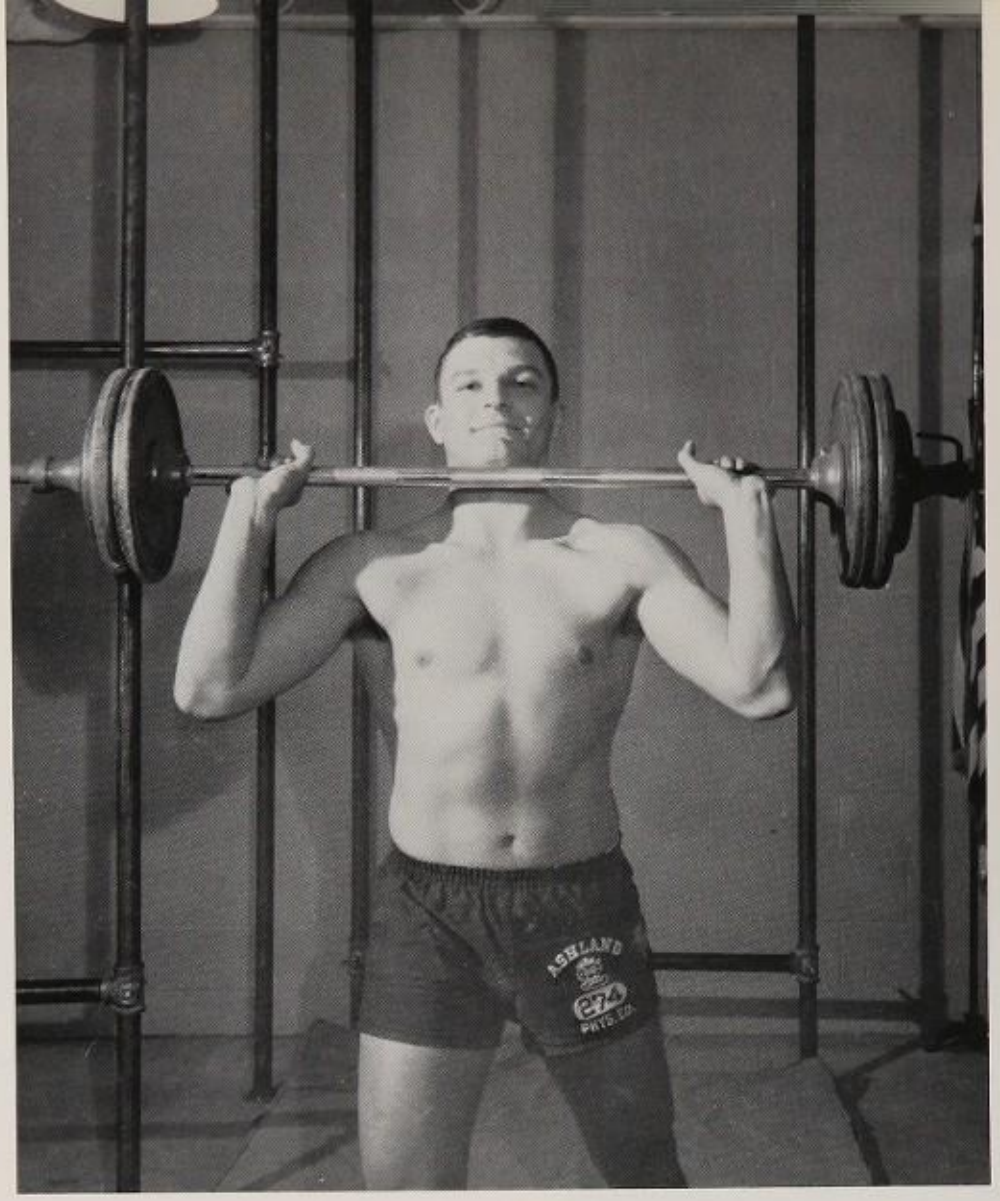
Art student Donna Daniels contemplate
the form and content of her worl

rk Work

Using an individual study in the library, Steve Jackson works industriously on a class project.

John Fearing seemed to have rushed to homeroom early in hopes of putting the final touch on his preparations for the day's study.





Thanks to the wonderful physical education department, Ashland may produce another Superman. Nick Jordan seems to be lifting this weight with ease and assurance.

One of Blazer High School's proudest possessions is the Tomcat band. Thanks to the professional guidance of Mr. White, band director, these two students have the opportunity of becoming polished musicians.

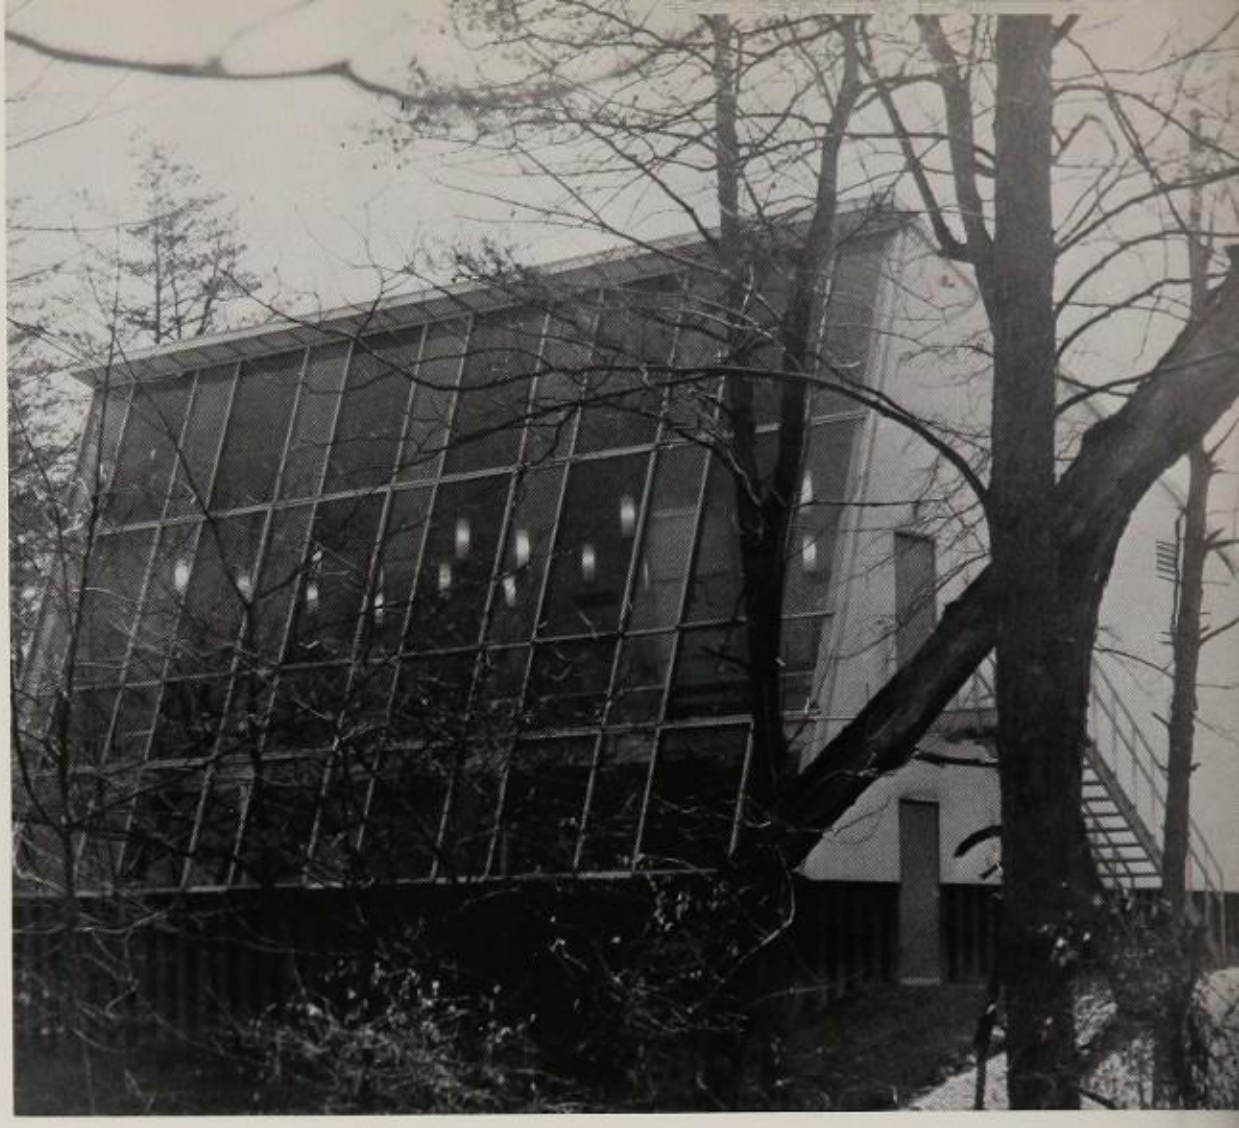
This year the clothes craze has hit Blazer High. To keep up with the latest in fashion, Betty O'Neal, like many other thrifty girls, makes her own clothes.

Modeling the latest thing in laboratory headgear a language student practices the increasingly important task of mastering the French Language.

These two industrial arts students are working on a masterpiece. It's one of those beautiful, but useful what chamacallits that is necessary on every thigamagig.

Young people need room, room in which to grow and learn. To move unhampered in an atmosphere of quiet and beauty develops a young person into an adult capable of appreciating the challenges and splendors of life. At Paul G. Blazer Senior High School space is adequeately provided to students for growing, working, fun, and relaxation.

Contrasting the elegance of nature and man, Blazer High majestically complements its natural surroundings. The Art building illustrates the functional form of each building on campus, giving students a view of nature capable of inspiring anyone to excellence. Whereas, the social studies building is almost as long and as fascinating as the history of man itself.



Nature adds her beauty to the surroundings at Blazer High. Bright colored leaves of Fall may create quite a problem for the ground keepers but their beauty adds a picturesque touch to the Science and Mathematics Building.

Winter brings many hazards which both the students and faculty must face, but no one can deny the natural beauty it adds to the Language Building.

Spring creates many problems for the student. Spring vacations and the Administration Building are designed to handle these problems.

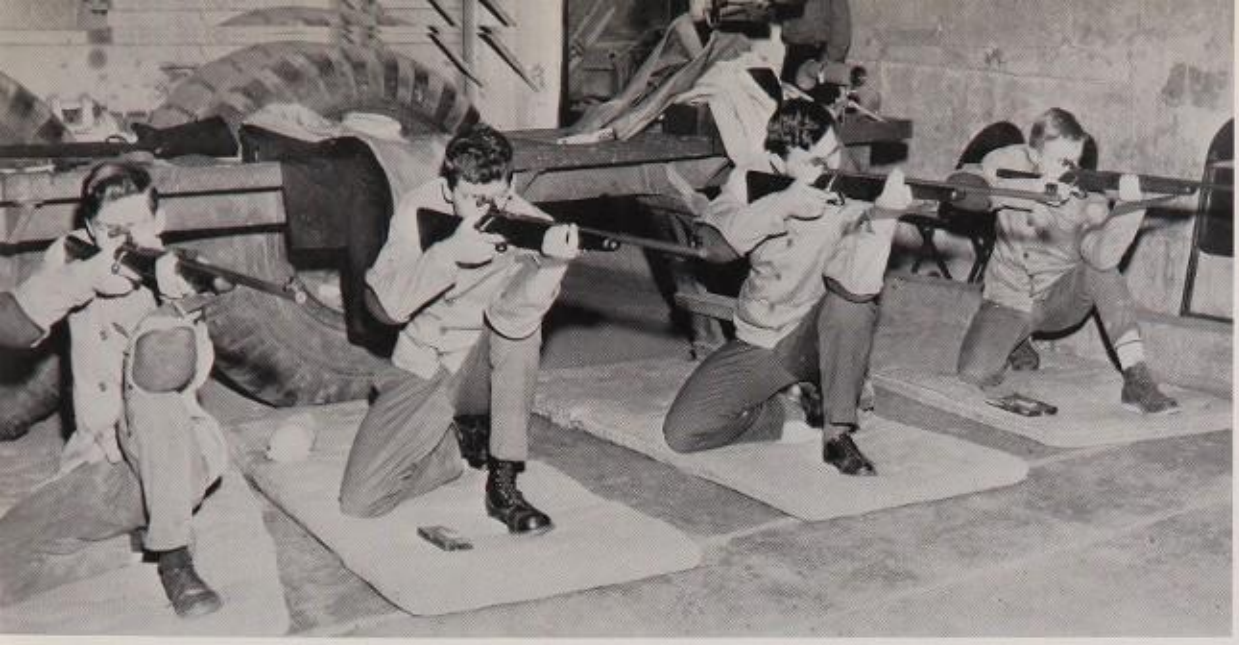
With so many buildings one must wonder how a new student could find his way around. These handy road signs strategically placed over the campus are the answer.



Marksmanship is a prerequisite for any Military man.

Approaching Manhood These Students Learn One of the Less Desirable Responsibilities of Maturity.

Cadet Marcum makes blurs of his hands as he releases his weapon to an inspecting officer.

Camp swampy was never like this. Sgts. Drury and Nickell relax for a moment from the rigorous military duties.

No, this is not a military wedding. It is merely the crowning of the Battle Group Queen, Francie Skidmore.

Mikado

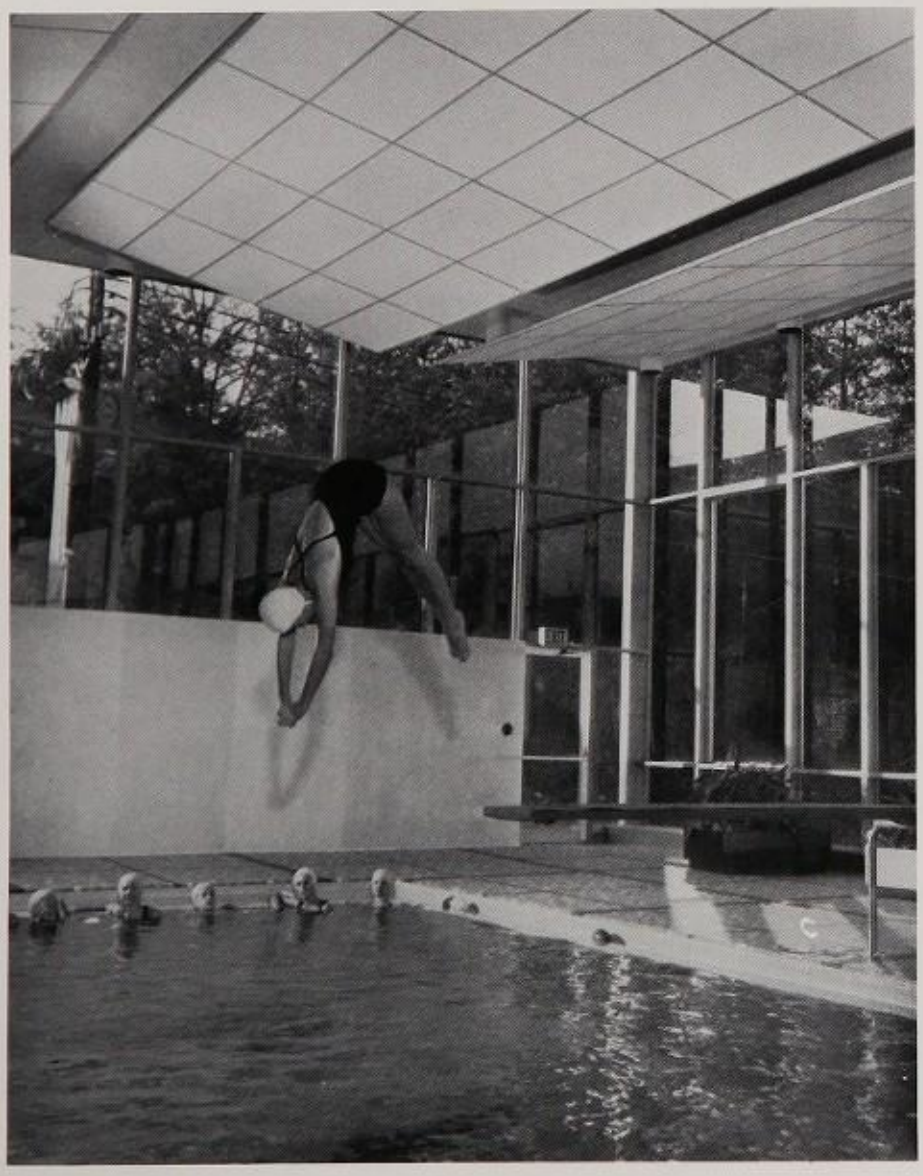
Three members of Mr. Doss' A Cappella Choir are working very hard to capture the oriental touch necessary in the Mikado. They are Bruce Orr, Gary Powell, and Don Goble.

Lowell Thompson's villainous expressions contributed both humor and terror to the production of the Mikado.

The hearts of the audience were captured by the tender love scene of Sandy Smither and Bruce Orr.

Blazer students are in top notch condition thanks to the new physical education program.

Playing volleyball with a medicine ball may seem like a strenuous sport, but these girls make it appear more fun than work.



Mary Lou Irie is practicing a dive of form and grace at the new Blazer Swimming Pool. Onlookers watch with interest as she approaches the water.

Grunts and groans can be heard over the campus as students acquire sore muscles learning the wrestling racket.

Mr. Salyers' cheerful smile, boutonniere, and friendly manner makes learning to work fun for these co-op students.

Co-Op

The Co-op program offers valuable information on the distribution of goods and retail selling. The aim of this program is to develop an alert, efficient sales person that will be an asset to a store's sales program.

The Co-op teacher, Mr. Salyers, cannot secure jobs for individuals, but he can help individuals secure jobs for themselves. In order to take advantage of this program one must be sixteen years old and must work an average minimum of fifteen hours a week on a part time job.

In addition to the useful knowledge gained from this course, two credits are given per semester. Co-op can be used as a major or minor.

Martha Back displays cosmetics to prospective customers Nancy Ross and Kathy Haynes.

ADMINISTRATORS AND FACULTY

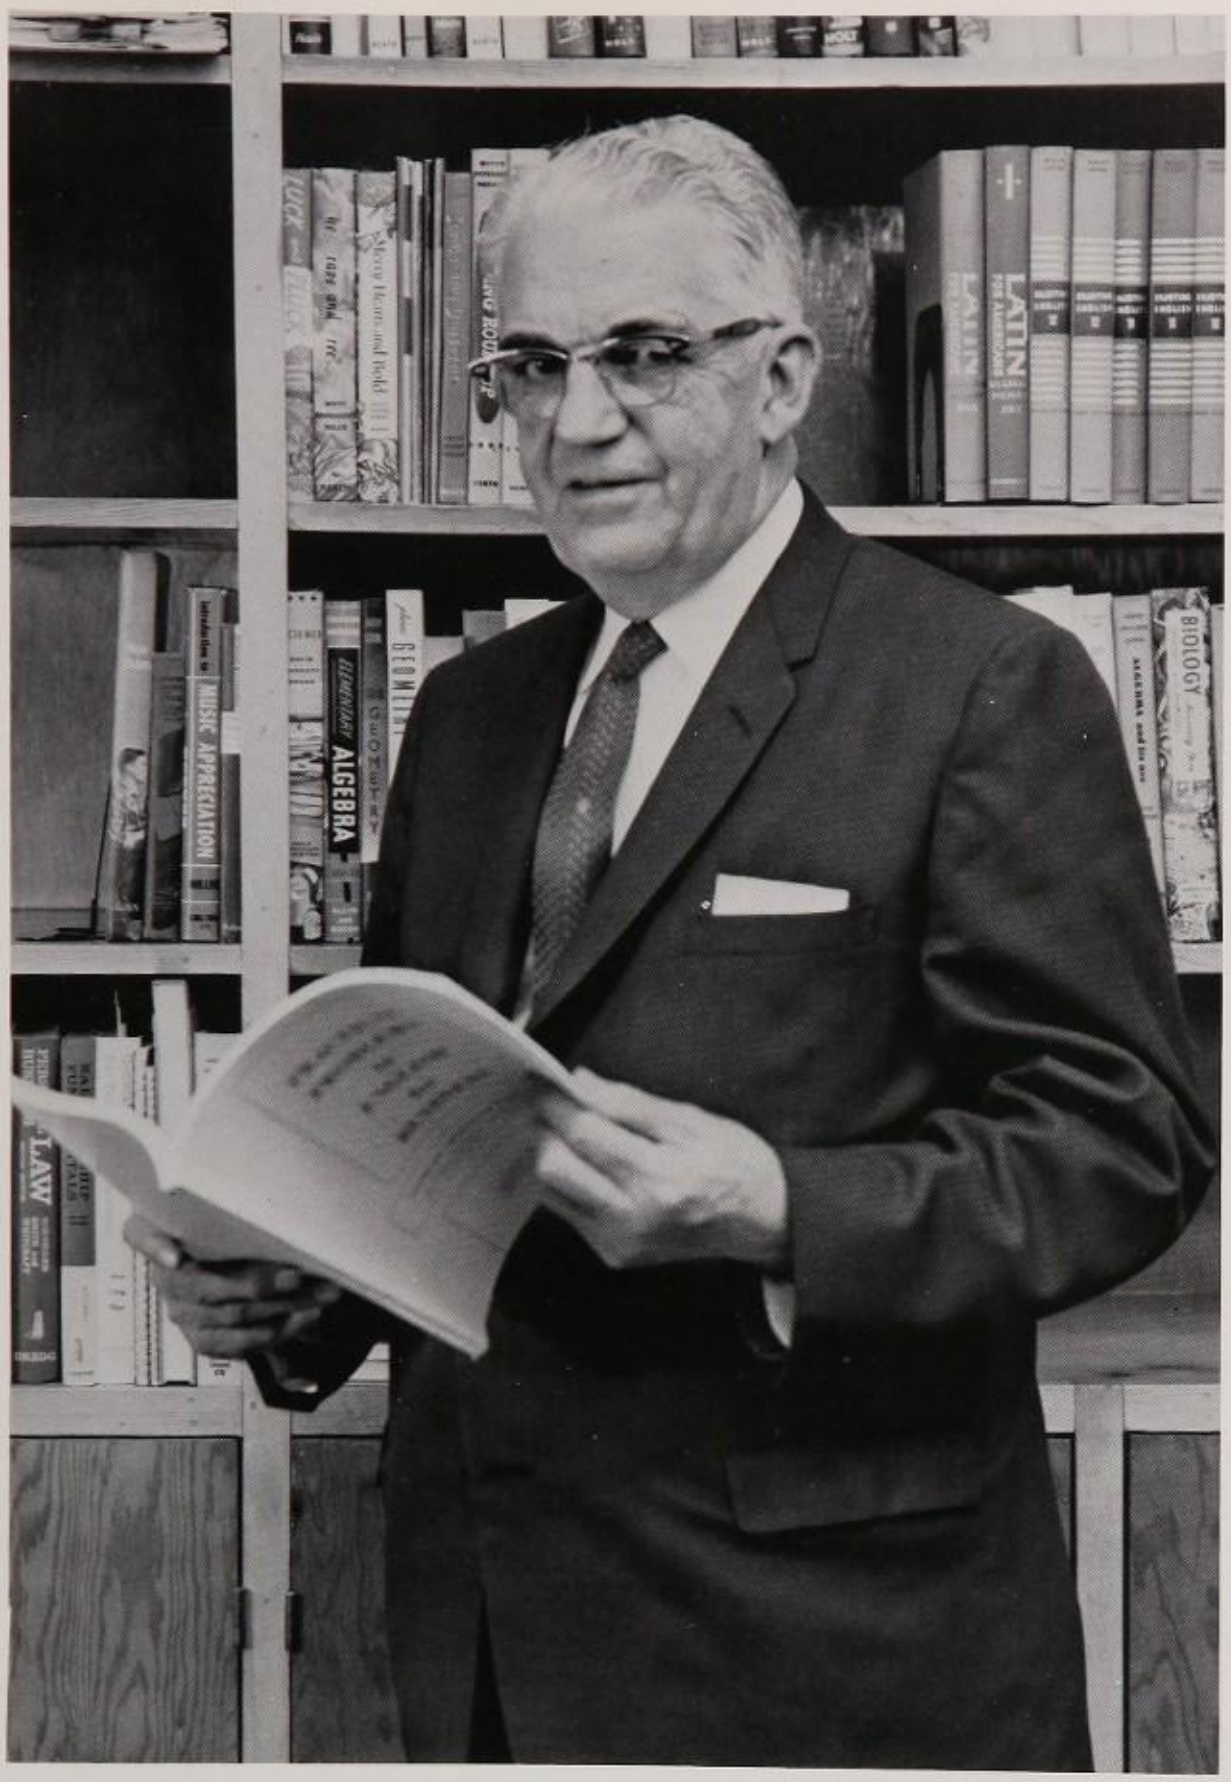
White carnation, coffee, cookies and service are what our teachers and administrators receive on Teacher Appreciation Day.- Although teachers are always appreciated, Teacher Appreciation Day is the only day in the year when they receive recognition for their efforts. Here, Mr. Douglas Green, English instructor, Mr. Fred Rigsby, Dean of Boys, and Miss Harriet Chatfield, Dean of Girls, are being graciously served by Mrs. William Simpson of the P.T.S.A.

MR. W. C. SHATTLES
SUPERINTENDENT OF
ASHLAND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

To attempt explaining any part of the procedure for getting a new school built and operating successfully would take several pages of highly technical explanations. We do not need to explain these matters to illustrate the tremendous efforts put forth by our Superintendent Mr. W. C. Shattles. Only through the diligent work supplied for the past three years by Mr. Shattles is it possible for the students of Ashland today to enjoy the finest school system in the state of Kentucky.

Mr. Shattles is a key figure in the building program that is taking place in our community. It is through his knowledge and application that we are now in one of the most elaborate public high schools in the United States.

At most there is too little that we can do and say to show our appreciation to this dedicated man for the work he has done for the Ashland school system. With confidence we realize that if our school program needs improving Mr. Shattles will do all that is within his power to bring these improvements through the planning stages, through the red tape and into reality.

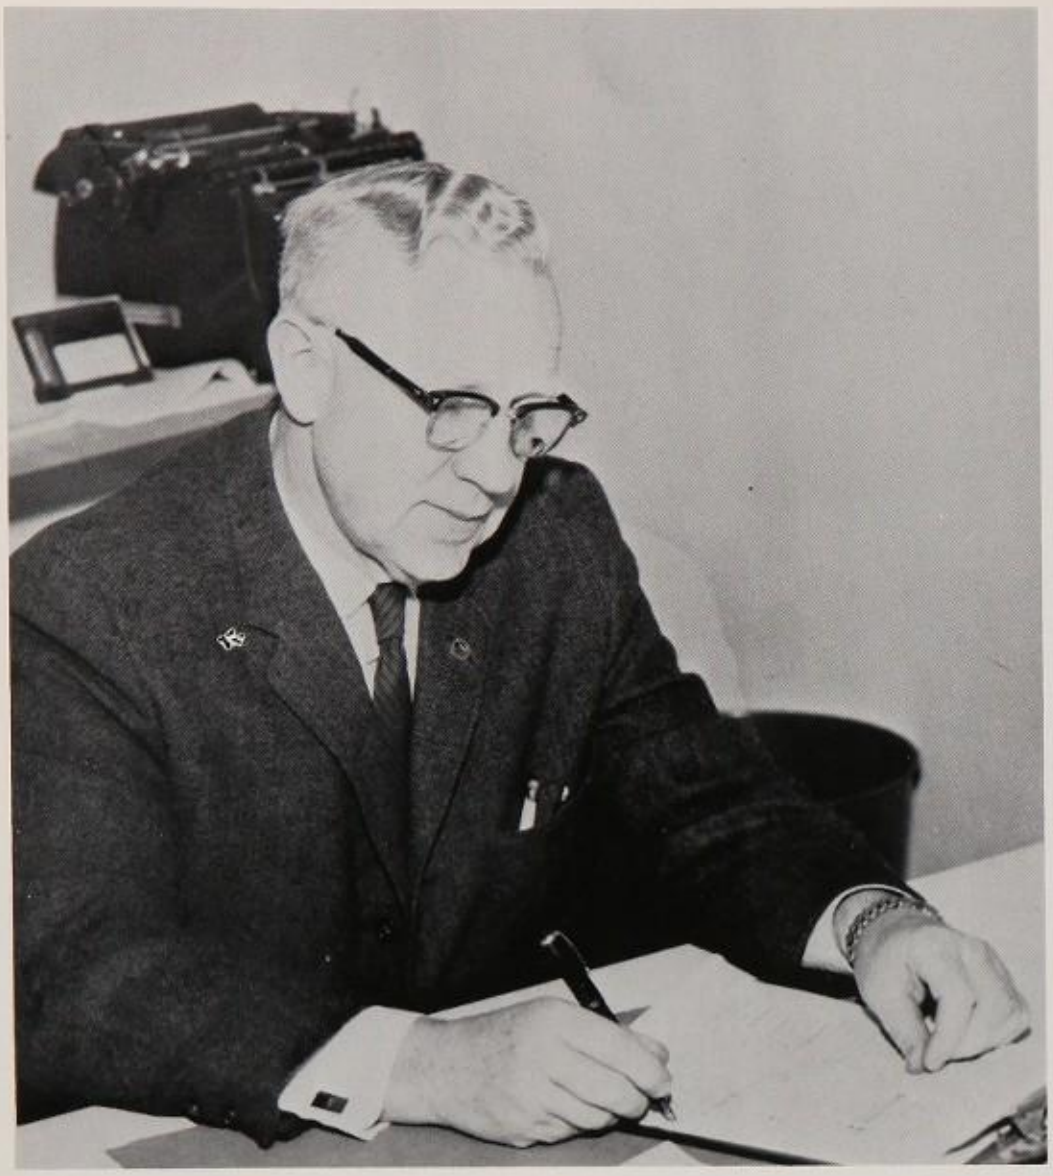


MR. H. L. ELLIS
PRINCIPAL ASHLAND
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

On September 7, 1962, approximately 1400 students moved onto the newly completed campus of Paul G. Blazer High School. The seven beautiful buildings presented an unusual atmosphere for the students. Added to new buildings was a new program of education. Each student was to have five seventy-five minute periods daily and six classes. This involved meeting each class four times a week and having a floating period for the sixth class.

This may sound complicated to a person who hasn't attended such a program. It appeared complicated to students at first, but they rapidly caught on and seemed to enjoy the variety that a floating period offered.

The smoothness of such a transition from one building to another and from one program to another was largely the responsibility of Mr. H. L. Ellis. The entire summer prior to the opening of the new school was spent by Mr. Ellis carefully going over each detail and removing each obstacle from the paths of the teachers and students. Mr. Ellis worked long and hard to make this move successful and as a result the confusion that would have accompanied the change was to a great extent avoided.

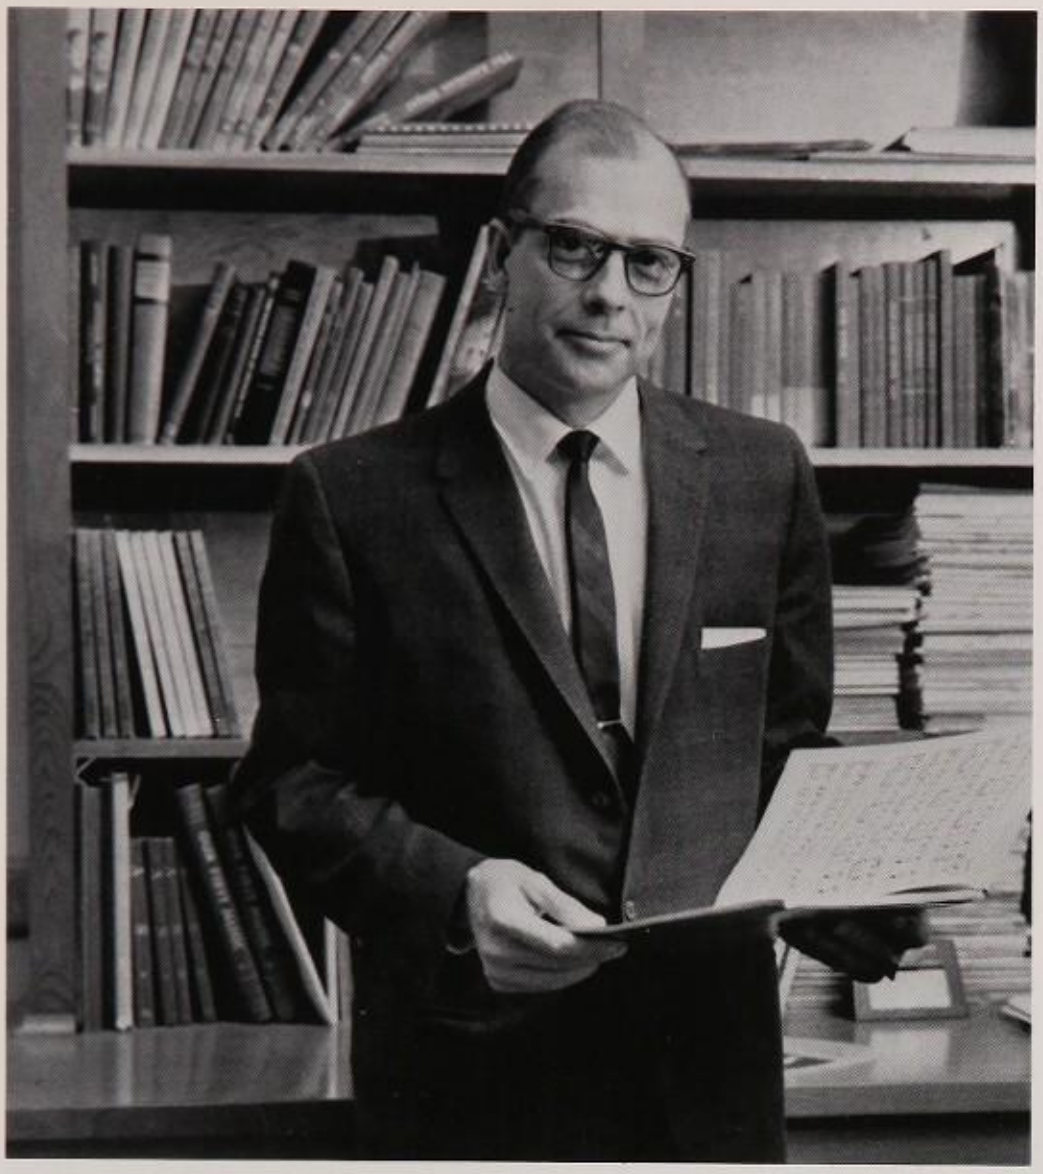


MR. FRED RIGSBY
ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Another important member of the administrative team of Ashland Public Schools is Mr. Fred Rigsby. His duties seem as limitless as his energy and effectiveness in their execution. Besides being Assistant Principal he is dean of boys and works daily at the process of scheduling classes for students.

MISS HARRIET CHATFIELD
DEAN OF GIRLS

A jack of all trades could very well describe the job of Miss Harriet Chatfield, Dean of girls. Besides being responsible for checking attendance, she lets girls cry on her soft shoulder, congratulates them when an honor is received, and hands out spankings when someone goes astray.



MR. EDWIN R. JONES
CURRICULUM COORDINATOR

New buildings aren't enough, the process of learning must also be constantly improved and advanced. This is the job for Mr. Edwin R. Jones in the secondary schools in Ashland. He may be seen daily discussing curriculum with the Ashland teachers. Mr. Jones is a good example of the ideal that just as learning is continuous, the process for improvement of learning is also continuous.

MR. EDWARD MATHIS
ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

Being assistant superintendent in charge of finances and maintenance of the Ashland Public Schools is quite a task for any man, especially with the new buildings added to Ashland's ever increasing educational facilities. Mr. Edward Mathis is the man responsible for this important part of our school life.

For Your Information

Guidance counselors, Mr. Keith Powell and Mrs. C. E. Hornbuckle are, among other things, responsible for student scheduling. They must see to it that each student selects a course of study in which he can achieve.

Seniors Enjoy New Facilities

Sergeant Drury is presented the All Star R.O.T.C. coach's trophy by James Preston with Rex Price and Mike Conley watching.

Very enthusiastically Ray Baker and Buzzy Eaves prepare for underwater cleaning of the swimming pool.

"Which plate shall I choose?" is the question Helen Dickerson, Dottie Shelley and Carla Little ask themselves as they pass through the lunch line.

Diligently Joyce Menshouse prepares to begin her typing assignment.

CLASS OF '63

Energetic, lively, happy as can be—that's the class of '63. This year's senior class earned a reputation that will never be forgotten, not only for being the first graduating class of Paul Blazer High School, but for their unmatched talents in scholarship, athletics, and just plain fun. The best football team in five years—a winning basketball team—honors in the forms of scholarships—many student leaders—and a wonderful array of beauty.

Living up to the standards of a fabulous new school and looking ahead to the future the class of '63 is one that won't soon be forgotten at Blazer High.

The Senior class officers of '63 are as follows: President—Bob Yancey, Vice President—Bob Reynolds, Secretary—Sandy Smither, Treasurer—Francie Skidmore, Sergeant at Arms—John Stafford, Chaplain—Bill Grimes, Reporter—John Steele and Barby Stone as Parliamentarian.

CLASS OF '64

Juniors shared in the spotlight of fame at Paul G. Blazer High. Scholars in upper 5 per cent of the class were inducted into the National Honor Society. Paul Blazer was represented by outstanding junior leaders at Boys' State, Girls' State and Camp Miniwanca.

Sharing glory in the field of sports were: J. B. Conley, Gerald Thompson, and Roger Wilson in football; Parkie Beam, David Hall, and Mike Sexton in basketball; Parkie Beam and Nick Jordan in baseball. The juniors made up a large part of the swimming team.

Magazines were sold furiously to raise the money needed to make a successful Junior-Senior Prom. The theme of the Prom was "Hawaiian Cruise." They had a blast decorating and the results were satisfying. Next year there seems to be lots in store for this great class of '64.

Junior class officers: Leslie Gutzwiler, President; Bob Ball, Treasurer; Roger Wilson, Vice President; Jennifer Day, Secretary; Sue Eggert, Reporter; (Absent) Dreama Watson, Chaplain.

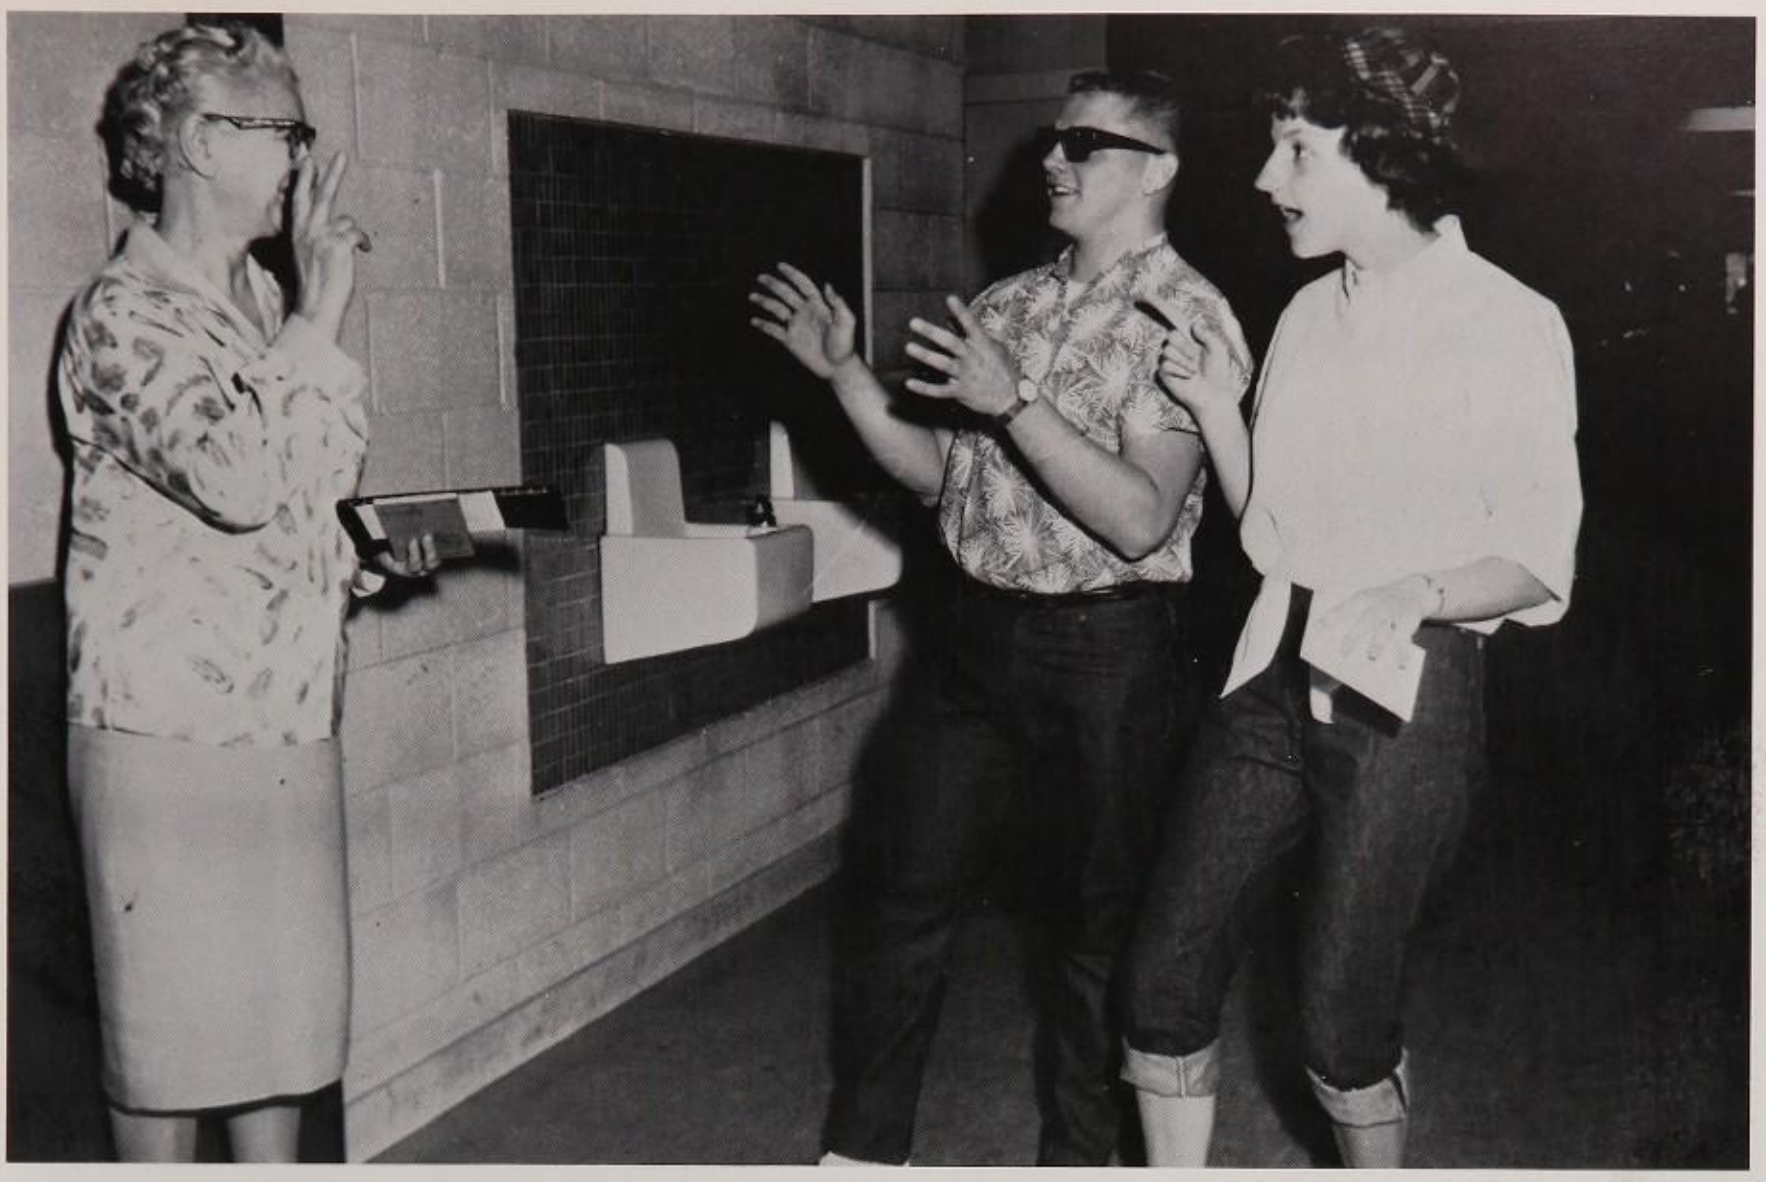
Ordering class rings is a major event in a Junior's life. Brian Sparks looks forward to "going steady" as he is fitted for his class ring by Mrs. Paul Nortker.



No, these two are not being sent to the office for improper dress. Cathy Jones and Tommy Preston are not afraid of Mrs. Lucy Sparks because it's "blue jean day on Campus."

Everyone wants to get into the act on "blue jean day." These juniors appear as proud as if they were in their best "formals."

Along with new sophomores came a new school, teacher, and a pool. Coach Sheila Gilreath supervises a class composed of sophomore boys.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

The sophomore class started out with at least one advantage over their upperclassmen, they received their schedules before both the juniors and seniors. Thus they had the chance to peddle escalator tickets or admission to the underground walkway.

In the sports field, Tom Ferguson stole the spotlight with his brilliant performances on the football field, basketball court, and baseball diamond.

Besides being members of the first swim team, these students gained recognition for their class: Julie Hagerman, Nancy Gilmore, Nancy Creech, Sharon Brumfield, Gretchen Fisher, Danny Dunn, John Hall, Joe Moore, Jack Cornette, Wiley Christe, Mike Czeskleba, and Carl Clawson.

In basketball 15-1 was the mark with which the Sophomores finished their season.

Extra touches were added to the debate team by Leon Richie. Richard Hughes received a superior in the Regional Speech Festival for his radio announcing. Malinda Moore and Roberta Stephens served as cheerleaders, and Nancy Creech and Sandy Bowe reigned as homecoming attendants. The class possessed even more talent as Ishie Farson, Carol O'Neal, and Sharon Balcaitis added much to the second line of majorettes. Talent, friendliness and jive, well represents the class of '65.

There seems to be safety in numbers as this group of sophomores band together from fear of being trampled upon by upperclassmen.

Alpha Beta Club

The Alpha Beta Club has been very active this year with various Candy sales held after school. Their two main events, however, were: the initiation of new members banquet and the Senior banquet. Alpha Beta was very fortunate this year by having Cleatis Davis as the Alpha Beta "Beau." The girls in Alpha Beta have brought many honors such as Girl's State, Honor Society, and several scholarships to their club, their school, and their community.

Annual Staff

This year's Annual Staff built this yearbook from start to finish. In addition to selling yearbooks, selling advertisements, selecting pictures to be used, they worked after school, on weekends, and during the summer, fitting the pictures in the annual and writing material about them. Theirs was a responsibility which they met with exuberance and creativity. Their goal was to produce a book which was representative of the first year at Paul G. Blazer. This, then, is the result of the Annual Staff of 1963.

Chevron Club '62-'63

As in previous years the Chevron Club participated in various activities this year. Candy sales, car washes, and attending church are only a few of these activities. The Chevron Club also sold refreshments at the Senior Class Play and held a picnic in Central Park for the purpose of selecting new members. Funds raised were used to give a one hundred dollar scholarship to one of the members of the club.

D. E. C. K.

Having a job and going to school are the qualifications for membership of the Co-op Club. This club is affiliated with Kentucky Future Retailers Association and their main goal is to attend the state convention in Lexington. This year the club, with the help of some of Ashland's outstanding businesses, took the responsibility of helping a needy family during the Christmas Holidays. The Co-op Club instills in its members a spirit of responsibility and cooperation.

ROW ONE—Sundberg, Ross, Back, Haynes, Stephens, Creech, Steil. ROW TWO—Salyers, Penix, Blevins, Burton, Seaton, Williams. ROW THREE—McPeek, Caldwell, Mullins, Newman, Thompson, Castle, Greene.

Annual Homeroom Rep.

One of the most important jobs connected with the yearbook is the sale of annuals. The bulk of the money needed to finance this project is made by student purchase. The homeroom representatives were responsible for selling the annual, collecting the money, turning it in, and delivering the receipts to the purchasers. This year's homeroom representatives were responsible for a very successful year.

Library Workers

Paul G. Blazer has a new library and a completely different procedure for selecting books and doing research. The library staff is essential in carrying out this program. They are on duty each period of each school day to aid students in the selection of books for pleasure and research.

ROW ONE—Saylor, Kazee, West, Scott, Walton, Johnson, Green, Hay (Librarian). ROW TWO—Ham, Palmeter, Palmeter, Points, Dickerson, Minnehan, Hilton. ROW THREE—Daniels, Shepard, Norton, Ellenberg.

Mr. Rigsby's Office Workers

The other group of workers helping the deans is this group of boys good-naturedly nicknamed "Rigsby's Rangers." Their job includes compiling a list of absentee boys and checking up on suspicious excuses. But that's not all of their duties, for they are always ready and willing to carry out any errands or any other odd jobs Mr. Rigsby needs done. These little odd jobs keep the office workers always on the move.

Miss Chatfield's Workers

A great service was performed by the girls in dean Chatfield's office this first year at Blazer. Collecting attendance slips and then compiling a list of absentees was their main duty. But of course if Miss Chatfield needed an errand done these helpful girls were ready to oblige, and so this kept them very busy. Another service which was performed by these girls was the filing of hobby transcripts. No doubt about it, these girls worked!

ROW ONE—Caines, Kelly, Coudill, McGuire, Fugitt, Frasure. ROW TWO—Crank, Greene, Gum, Thompson, Wolfe. ROW THREE—Dean, Pendleton, Gabbard, Plummer, Cox, Gifford.

F.H.A.

The Future Homemakers of America have been extremely busy this year. Since there were so many members they divided up into two different Clubs, the Sophomores and the Juniors and Seniors. They were asked to serve at the Annual State wide P.T.A. Convention banquet. They did so with grace and ease and will be asked to do it from now on. About Easter time the F.H.A.'ers brought little children to school for a child-care project and they had an Easter party. They worked exceptionally hard at their candy sales to make money to buy Easter Baskets and refreshments for the little children. The Sophomores and Juniors had a banquet for Seniors which went off in grand style.

Phi Delta

"Buy a candy bar from Phi Delta!" Members started the year by selling candy bars and washing cars. A dinner and variety show honoring the Altrusa Club, delivery of the annual Christmas basket, church attendance and participation in community drives kept the club busy. Activities were brought to an end by a picnic and presentation of gifts to seniors. Pat Hale received the Altrusa Scholarship presented to an outstanding Phi Delta senior.

Le Cercle Francais

New on the academic scene at Paul Blazer is Le Cercle Francais (Fanfare—brass section—mostly French horns). Under the guidance of sponsors Miss Davis and Mr. Kingsbury, the French Club has had an educational and interesting school year. Highlights of the activities included a unique French Christmas party, several interesting guest speakers, slides and films of France, and the learning of French games and songs.

Guidance Workers

Anytime Mr. Powell or Mrs. Hornbuckle need something done, they always have one of their trusty workers to carry out their every whim. Busy is a word that would really describe their work. This work includes typing anything that needs to be typed, running any errands, filing the occupational files, and relating test scores back to the takers of any tests. This was another service which earned little credit, but, again, how could our guidances office function without its workers?

Gym Aids

It is the duty of these girls to keep the locker room and the equipment room procedures running smoothly and accurately. Calling the role, checking showers, and checking out equipment, and then, making sure it's checked back in is quite enough to keep them busy. By doing this, some of Mrs. Evans' work is relieved. Although they earned little credit for doing this, they were greatly appreciated by their instructor.

FIRST ROW—Tipton, Culbertson, Dean, Slone, Risk, Porter, Newsom. ROW TWO—Quillen, Conns, Sexton, Coffman, Griffith, Palmeter. Blankenship, Dixon, Watson, Fannin.

Kappa Phi Club

The Kappa Phi began its activities with a hayride for its new members. In November a slumber party was given for all members. They have had several candy sales as money making projects. The most important project was the selling of senior calling cards and invitations in order to sponsor a girl to Girls' State and a boy to Boys' State, and to make up the $200 scholarship awarded to a senior member of the club. The club participated in the Women's Club Style Show, where the benefits went to the Cerebral Palsy Fund.

Gamma Club

According to the standards set before them, the Gamma Club participated actively in both school and community projects. Besides sponsoring delegates to Camp Miniwanca and Girls' State, the club presented baskets of food to indigent families at Christmas and Thanksgiving. The Mother-Daughter Tea, the Cerebral Palsy Drive, and entertainment provided by their sponsor, Xi Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, were also activities shared by the members of the Gamma.

Prayer Group '62-'63

"In your busy school day, can you spare fifteen minutes for God?" This was the Theme of this year's Prayer Group which strived to preserve the Christian Society of America. An important factor of Prayer Group is the opportunity each member has to enable him to discuss his goals and experiences of his Christian life and visitation of various ministers throughout the Christian world.

Key Club

Working on homes and yards, sponsoring and selling the basketball programs, a car wash on Prom day, were a few of the things the active and energetic Key Clubbers did to make money this year. They also performed service projects, such as giving aid to the flood victims in Eastern Kentucky, presenting a flag for the gym, presenting a joint scholarship with their sponsor, sending a delegate to Boys' State, and sending two boys to attend the Key District Convention held at Nashville, Tennessee.

ROW FOUR—Dixon, Hurtz, Culbertson, Booker, Points, Kemper, Jones, Castle, Franklin, Boggs, Johnson, Akers, Barrow.

Sigmet

Beginning the year with a boom, the Sigmet Club sponsored the annual Homecoming Dance, where all couples spent a lovely evening in "My Blue Heaven." Smiling Sigmets spent a lot of time and hard work in various activities such as car washes, rummage and candy sales. Throughout the year Sigmet rendered her services to Cerebral Palsy and Cancer Drives, sold poppies for Disabled Veterans, distributed baskets of food and clothing, and sent a delegate to Girls' State.

Ro Club

"Service above self" is the motto this year's Ro Club adopted under the direction of Captain Max Thomas. Members have set an outstanding example on the campus in scholarship, leadership, social life, and athletics. Ro Club began its activities in August by soliciting ads for the Tomcat football programs, held their annual Hobo Day in November and a candy sale in January. Ro Club Sweetheart was Francie Skidmore. Bill Grimes, Tom Dixon, and Roger Wilson represented the club at the Rotary International World affairs Institute.

Student Council

One of the major accomplishments performed by the first student council of Paul Blazer was clearing up the library situation so that all area students would again be free to use the reference room of the public library. But the selling of Tomcat cushions, the publication of Buzz Books, the distribution of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets help to round out their activities. The annual blue-jean day and dance were sponsored again this year and the proceeds were turned over to Doctor Turpin for his "Project Concern." This helped to round an event-packed year for the student council.

Y-Teens

The purpose of the Y-Teens is "to build a fellowship of women and girls devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of Personal and Social living to which we are committed by faith as Christians. In living up to this purpose, Paul G. Blazer Y-Teens have done such things as offering gift wrapping services at Christmas and babysitting services at election day, selling candy for the world fellowship fund, donning Halloween costumes and visiting the Children's Ward of the hospital, and selling potato chips in order to send delegates, Peggy Hilton and Bernita Booker to Y-Teen Conference.

Theta

Theta started their activities rolling with a leaf-raking good time. Other money making projects included bake and candy sales and a car wash. Theta boasts of many honors this year, such as delegates for girls' state, members in the Honor Society, Camp Minawanca, attendants for the various dances, Sebald winners, the Pollock prize winner, and many scholarship winners. Theta closed its year as it bid farewell to the seniors at the senior banquet.

Speech Club

Enthusiastic new sophomores, along with experienced upper-classmen, composed a successful year for the speech club. Several members attended a discussion conference in Lexington and received a second place plaque. Two sophomores were honored for excellent work in the novice division. Other activities included a tournament at Bowling Green, and the Regional and State Speech Festivals. At Regional Ashland received seven superiors and four at State. Bake sales were held to finance students to a summer speech workshop at the University of Kentucky.

First Year Spanish Club

The first year Spanish Club headed by our new Spanish teacher, Mr. Kingsbury, started the year's activities with a bang. They met every other week on Wednesday and each meeting was full of different entertainment. A Spanish teacher from Huntington High came to give a talk on her experiences in Spain. Mr. Kingsbury gave a program on his exchange trip to Spain where he spent two years.

Second Year Spanish

The Spanish Club started off the year by receiving new pen pals which proved to be a great success. All the meetings are held at a different person's house every other week and an interesting program with an occasional outside speaker who spoke Spanish or had been to Spain. The Spanish Club has really proved to be a credit to the New Paul G. Blazer High School.

Tomcat Staff

The Tomcat Staff has worked very hard this year to get the Paper out on time, to improve the quality of each edition and keep the students aware of the activities on campus. Long hours have been spent after school preparing the paper for the press. In addition to regular staff work they have sold ads to local merchants and Tomcat hats and scarves to the student body to help pay the expenses of the paper.

Tomcat Representative

The Tomcat Representatives had the responsibility of delivering a paper to each subscriber. Also, they were students of high finances as they were responsible for selling papers, collecting money from subscribers, and delivering the money to Mrs. Tackett. Their efforts kept confusion to a minimum on each edition of the school newspaper.

Franklin, Parmalee, Armstrong, Richey.

The Debate Team

The goal of debating is to prepare a student with the ability to think rapidly and logically. Along with the same lines, opinions must be reserved until all the facts are presented. This year's debate proposition was "Resolved: that the United States should promote a Common Market for the Western Hemisphere." During the year, the Debate team debated against Prestonsburg and Marshall Lab School and participated in tournaments at Bowling Green and the Regional Tournament at Morehead.

Message Center

The elaborate set-up of Paul Blazer has presented a problem in the line of communications. Since this plant is composed of seven buildings instead of one, it was necessary that a workable system be derived. And these students were the lifeline of this system. Their job was one that was filled with collecting absentee slips for their assigned building and running errands for the deans or teachers. Although these students earned little credit for their services, Blazer wishes to give them a salute for their services.

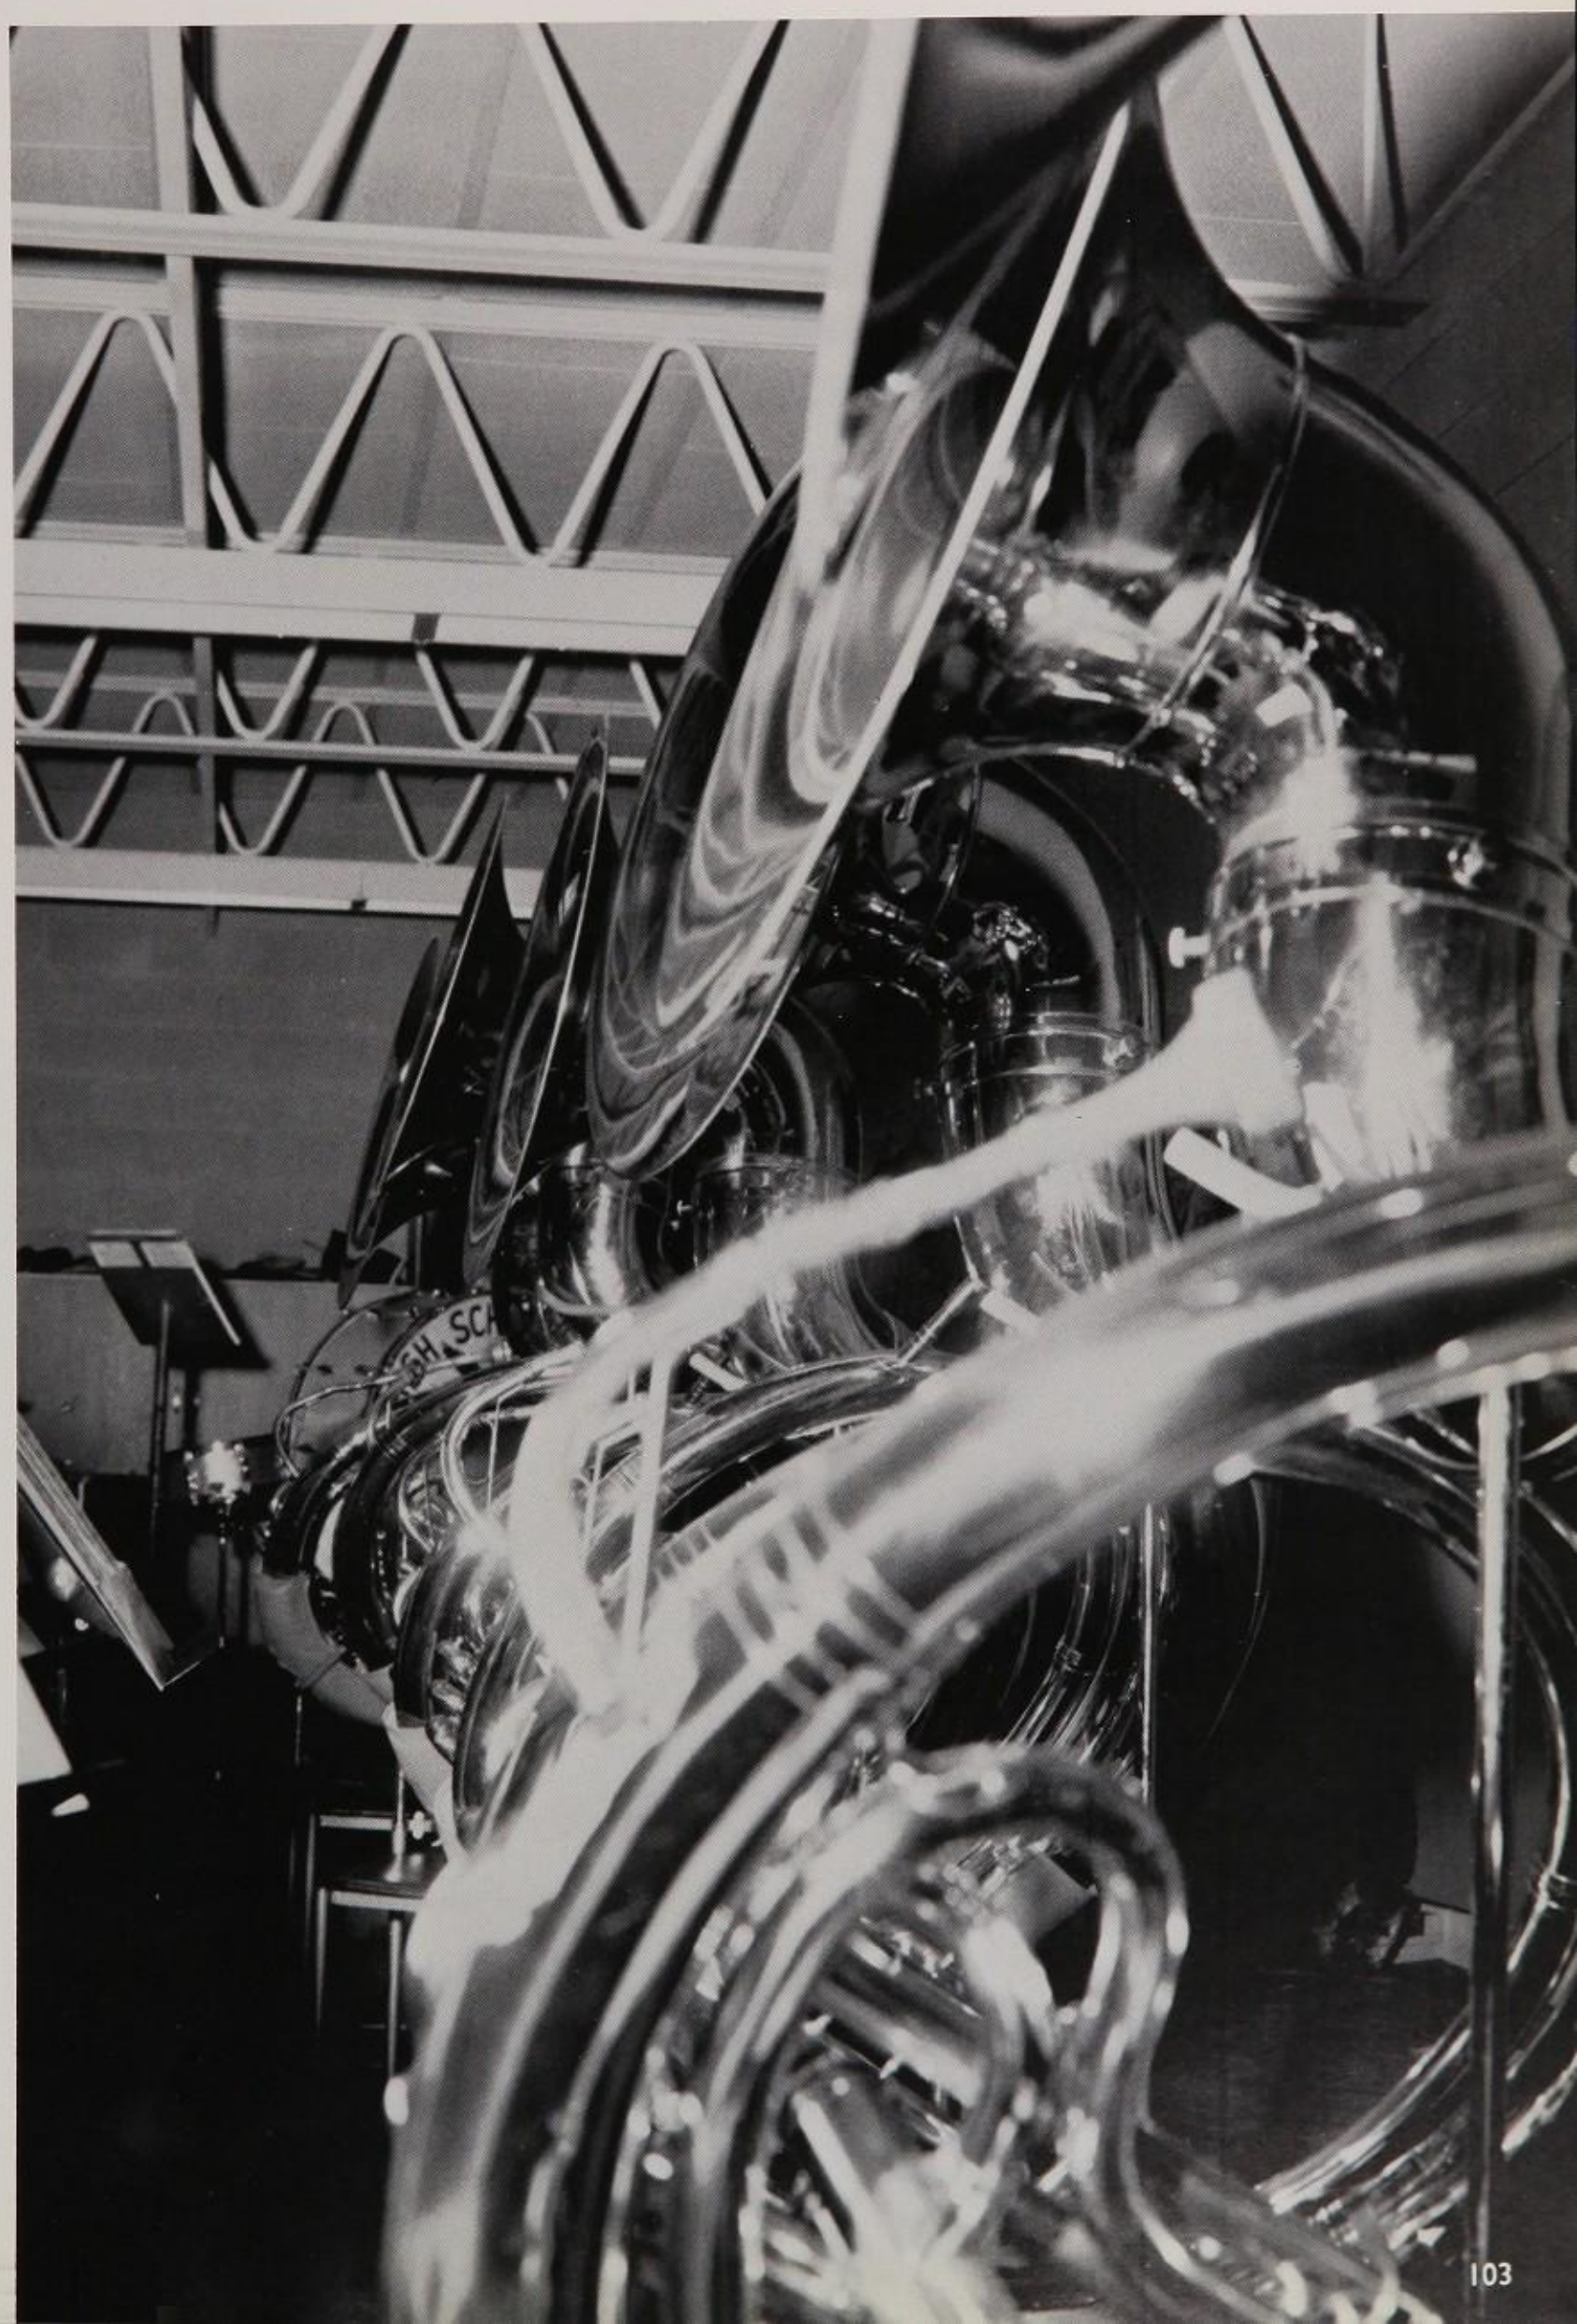
MUSIC



THE TOMCAT BAND—One of the best in the state.

Traugott, Kazee, Osenton, Nalle, Dixon, Bundy, Lichtner, Clemons, Skidmore, Smith.

Music Dept.

This year's music department has brought more than its share of honors to Ashland. The Band was present to March and Play for every football game and earned the name "the best playing band in the state." They presented a spring concert and had an overflow crowd to hear them give a superior performance.

This year's All-state chorus has brought many honors to Ashland. The A Cappella Choir presented "Nite Beat" about the first of the year and it was a tremendous success. In April they presented "The Mikado" and it seemed almost professional.

Karen Wolfe and Bill Grimes set the room aglow with their radiant smiles as they were announced the royal couple for the prom.

Ashland High's Hawaiian Cruise

The juniors and seniors of Paul Blazer embarked on a make-believe ship Saturday night, May 11, as this year's prom theme was disguised as a "Hawaiian Cruise." The juniors practically outdid themselves with decorations for the ship, complete with a loading ramp, portholes, and even Hawaiian hostesses.

But even all this glory didn't distract from the crowning majesties. Karen Wolfe and Bill Grimes reigned as queen and king and serving in their court were Ginger Myers and Fred Cooper as first attendants, Linda Coons and Ernie Daniels as second attendants, and Sherry Schaffer and Hugh Martin as third attendants.

And as the ship returned to Paul Blazer and as the guests disembarked, many happy memories left with them, for it will be sure they won't easily forget the time they took an "Hawaiian Cruise."

R O T C 1 9 6 3

In its first year under the direction of Captain Max Thomas, the Ashland R.O.T.C. represented Blazer High with high proficiency at drill meets, rifle matches, and community functions. The Ashland Rifles and the Rifle Team accounted for a raft of trophies and recognition. Cadet Colonel Daniel Huffman (pictured above) became the second Ashland boy in two years to win the coveted Legion of Valor Award; and study, drill, and spit and polish rewarded Company B with the prized "Honor Company" designation. Collecting money for charity and repairing toys for Christmas fulfilled civic duties, and the annual inspection, awards ceremony, and the military ball met social obligations.

Capable, energetic, imaginative, and respected, Captain Thomas teaches cadets map reading for survival.

By preparing young men for military service by instilling in them qualities of leadership, drill neatness, self-reliance, and patriotism, and by generally making them better and more useful citizens, the Ashland R.O.T.C. program has demonstrated that if military expenses are to be cut, it should not begin here.

ATHLETICS

The desire and aggressiveness of Ashland's football team, led to the most successful season the Tomcats have had in many years. Offensively the Cats outscored their opponents by 120 points; defensively they held the opposition to one touchdown or less in all but four games.

Two of the most outstanding efforts by the Cats were the Hazard and Ft. Thomas games. When the boys went into the dressing room at halftime in the Hazard game, they were behind by two touchdowns. They came back in the second half to score 20 points and hold their opponents to only one touchdown and a tie game.

At halftime of the Ft. Thomas game, Ashland's only defeat, the Tomcats were behind 20 to 0. During the second half the team held Ft. Thomas to six points while several touchdown attempts by Ashland's offense failed by short yardage.

Behind good blocking Miller shows some of the high-stepping speed which helped to gain him the best offensive back award.

BASKETBALL

Teamwork, good ball-handling, rugged rebounding, and above average shooting helped the Tomcat five to another successful season. Although regular season play was often rugged, the Cats managed to successfully place second in the A.I.T. and win the District Championship. Injuries were not uncommon as the cagers had to play much taller and heavier squads. The quick thinking and smart ball-handling of the entire varsity squad helped to cope with such teams as Maysville and E-Town. To illustrate the competitive spirit of the team the losses which were dealt to the Cats were seldom more than four or five points.

KNEELING—Carolyn Murphy, Nancy Beldon. STANDING—Malinda Moore, Pat Goff, Miss Hamm, Sandy Smither, Bert Stephens.

Cheerleaders

Every team member likes to know that there is a crowd behind them, even if they should be losing. Blazer's cheerleaders realized this and when they yelled they had a way of making the crowd yell with them. An array of beauty made the line-up lovely to look at, but beauty doesn't completely make a good cheerleader—practice does; and practice they did and lots of it. Under the direction of Miss Hamm, Blazer walked away with the best cheerleader trophy in the A.I.T. And because of their pep, beauty, and intelligence and friendliness, all students will agree that they are the bestest in the U.S.A.

KNEELING—Manager Coburn, Radjunas, Manager Church, Captain Daniels, Sluss, Williams, Stevens, Ferguson, McGuire, Davis, Miller, Manager Workman. STANDING—McGill, Koegler, Yancey, Wagner, N. Jordan, Johnson, McKenzie, Jackson, Webb, Layman, Bomar, C. Jordan, Kinney, Coach Boehm.

BASEBALL

Good pitching and hitting helped this year's baseball eleven to gain a berth in the finals of the regional tournament where they were beaten 6-5 by McDowell. After getting off to a slow start the team began to pick up steam, and behind fine pitching by ace pitchers Yancey and Koegler, fought on to a 17-10 season. Captain Ernie Daniels was outstanding at the plate and in the field and was joined by Chip Miller, Gale Bomar and Ed Radjunas as the top hitters on the team.

TRACK

The Ashland Track team had many outstanding performers this year as in the past. Distance runner Gary Johnson, shot-putter George Branham, hurdler Bob Fultz and high-jumper Fred Cooper proved to be the nucleus of the team. After a few changes by Coach Miller, the mile relay team was able to advance to the state meet. Although the relay did not place, anchor man Johnson qualified in the 440-yd. dash.

Gary Johnson digs in as he makes a final thrust at the tape in qualifying for the state track meet.

SITTING—Mgr. Shire, Blake, Slavens, Wallace, Conley, Hall, Clawson. KNEELING—Hennig, Corn, Wheeler, Clements, Kemper, Thompson, Alban, Layman. STANDING—Coach Miller, Mgr. Brown, Johnson, Fultz, Cooper, McMillen, Prater, Branham, Johnson, Mgr. Cheap, Coach Conard.

COMPETITIVE SWIMMING

Since Paul Blazer came furnished with a swimming pool, another first was added to the long list of accomplishments. Miss Sheila Gilreath, swim instructor, took full advantage of this and formed a team never known to Ashland before—a swim team. Practice proved to be a full task, as many grueling hours of swimming were spent each day after school and members had to abide by strict training rules. Even though this team of '63 didn't gain much recognition, Blazer is extremely proud of their efforts. And the promise of a state title may not be far off as a great majority of the swimmers were sophomores and even freshmen. Good luck, Barracudas!

ROW ONE—Baskett, Wilson, Prater, Dunn, Hall, Marcum, Moore, Sisler. ROW TWO—Mgr. Noe, Clawson, Waterbury, Czeskleba, Christy, Cornett, Yancey, Coach Gilreath.

Lafavette.

Under the direction of Coaches Wright and Gilreath, the boys' and girls' tennis teams were again placed on the athletic agenda for Ashland. Since practice began late in the year, furious sessions were required to get in shape.

The boys made a fine showing in regular play, and Bill Beverly gained another trophy for Blazer by winning the singles match in the Regional Tournament. The girls, lacking experience learned a great deal girls, lacking experience, from matches with Fairview, Russell, and Breckinredge. In the Regional, the girls lost out to more experienced players. But still, Blazer salutes them.
